BRITISH TAKE INITIATIVE IN IRISH FIGHTING

Government Troops Attack Body of Sinn Fein Soldiers at Rifle Practice.

MAC SWINEY IS WEAKER

Hunger Striking Cork Mayor Packed in Hot Water Bottles to Prolong Life.

By United Press Leased Wire

Dublin.—Major General Sir Neville MacReady's coup yesterday in which he surprised a body of Sinn Fein troops at drill and killed one and captured forty men, was regarded here today as the first step in a new campaign to smash the "Irish republican" army.

The coup was taken as an indication MacReady intends to take the initiative against the Sinn Fein.

"The "Irish republican" soldiers were at rifle and bombing practice in the mountains 15 miles from Dublin when they were surprised by "auxiliary police."

The Sinn Feiners gave battle using rifles and bombs. MacReady's men charged into the valley from all directions, armored automobiles joining the affray and the "republican soldiers" lay down their arms.

Authorities plainly were jubilant at the result of the first offensive against the "republican" army. MacReady's troops in this skirmish were recruited largely from former imperial soldiers.

While government forces were accomplishing the victory, 400 Sinn Feiners commandeered automobiles as they left Dublin for Sunday drives. Thus equipped they raided over 500 homes of Tyrone county Unionists searching them for arms.

At Abbeyfeale, Constable Mahoney was ambushed and shot to death. Two companions were injured.

Packed in Water Bottles

London.—Terence MacSwiney, hunger striking lord mayor of Cork, was reported packed in hot water bottles today in an effort to prolong his life.

Eminent scientists called by the government, said life could be prolonged if his bodily heat could be maintained.

MacSwiney was reported exceedingly weak after a night of fitful sleeping, but the beginning of his thirty-ninth day of fasting was marked by no perceptible change.

The psychological aspect of MacSwiney's strike aroused intense interest among scientists.

Sinn Fein leaders reiterated their belief today MacSwiney's spiritual faith and his intense political convictions were upholding him.

Is Growing Weaker

London.—Lord Mayor Terence MacSwiney, dozing fitfully, began his thirty-ninth day of hunger striking today.

The last bulletin from Sinn Fein headquarters said he was perceptibly weaker but still conscious.

Friends of the lord mayor vigorously denied the imputation of the London Times that MacSwiney's visitors were supplying him with food. The Times asking "who is feeding MacSwiney?" pointed out the lord mayor and the hunger strikers in Cork almost equalled the record of Dr. Tanner, who fasted forty days, much to the wonder of the medical world.

SIX BADGER COUNTIES SHOW POPULATION GAINS

Decreases since 1910: Rolette, N. D., 653, or 7.2 per cent; Monroe, Wis., 215, or .8.7.

START CANVASS OF VOTE IN ILLINOIS PRIMARY

By United Press Leased Wire

Chicago.—Official canvass of the vote in last Wednesday's state primary was started in Chicago's 2,210 precincts today. It was expected to be completed Wednesday.

Pending the official announcement, Lee Small, Thompson candidate, had a lead of 6,000 over John G. Oglesby, for the republican nomination for governor, and William B. McKinley, Lowden candidate, was leading for the senatorial nomination lead.

CORN PRICE DROPS BELOW $1 A BUSHEL

By United Press Leased Wire

Kansas City, Mo.—For the first time since 1917, corn sold below a dollar a bushel here today when December delivery dropped to 99⅞ cents.

Increased country offerings and continued warm weather to mature the big crop before frost, were given as reasons for the decline.

Wor... Stops A War

State Historical Society of Wisconsin Camp Madison, Wis.

By United Press Leased Wire

Paris — Dramatically clasping hands today before councillors of the league of nations, Ignace Paderewski and A. Valdemar accepted the league's findings in the Polish-Lithuanian dispute, in which was was threatened.

Both Paderewski and Valdemar said up to two weeks ago they believed the dispute between the two countries could have been settled only by war.

Acceptance of the findings marked the league's first success in blocking threatened war.

The league council held an open session today in the Luxembourg palace. It was to discuss its power to act in another territorial dispute between northern European countries—the Aaland islands difference between Sweden and Finland. Finnish representatives were expected to protest the council's decision to appoint a commission to report on the matter.

The league's proposal in settlement of the Polish-Luthuanian dispute was that Lithuania provisionally accepts the boundary line prescribed by the supreme council in December, 1919, and will withdraw all troops to western line during negotiations. Poland agreed to respect Lithuanian territory during the Russo-Polish war if the soviets will do likewise.

The council will appoint a commission to supervise the fulfillment of the terms and assist in the negotiations between the countries.

VETERANS OF CIVIL WAR VISIT HARDING

Republican Declares That U. S. Doesn't Need Orders From Super-Government.

(By Raymond Clapper.)
By United Press Leased Wire

Marion, Ohio—A delegation of 400 members of the G. A. R. traveling from northern Ohio points to the national encampment at Indianapolis, was scheduled to stop off at Marion today to be addressed by Senator Warren G. Harding.

One of the important events of this week will be the visit of members of the Harding and Coolidge traveling men's league which will visit the front porch Saturday. Harding will deliver an address—the last before starting on his trip to Ashland, Ky., Baltimore and Wheeling. It was expected 2,000 or more representatives of this organization will journey to Marion.

Organized labor and all other citizens will get together on the league of nations issue "to end the submergence of our nation in internationalism," Senator Harding said in a letter today to Michael J. Hallinan, Brockton, Mass., labor leader who wrote the republican candidate that organized labor there is opposed to attempted dictation of their international officers in politics."

"In the face of the meanace of internationalism we are all Americans," Harding wrote.

"This issue, in my judgment, is doing more than anything else to draw together the real American and patriotic sentiment of the country and to wipe out all class and group distinction. Our country will do its full share in the world in its own way and time and not through the orders of any super-government dominated by alien interests."

U. S. DELEGATES TALK OVER CONFERENCE PROGRAM

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington, D. C.—The American commissioners to the coming international communications conference in Washington meet at the state department today to discuss the United States policy.

Representatives of the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy will confer here October 8, preliminary to the main conference, to which all the nations of the world will be invited.

The preliminary conference will set the date for the plenary conference and will draw up an agenda for it.

DESPONDENT WOMAN SLAYS CHILD AND SELF

By United Press Leased Wire

Lydonville, Vermont—Mrs. Gertrude Pierce, after killing her one year old baby by shooting it with a revolver, turned the weapon on herself and committed suicide, according to police.

Her husband Merle Pierce, a railroad fireman, lay asleep with two other children during the shooting. He discovered the bodies an hour later.

Despondency over ill-health is believed to have caused the tragedy.

HORSESHOERS LAMENT PASSING OF OLD DOBBIN

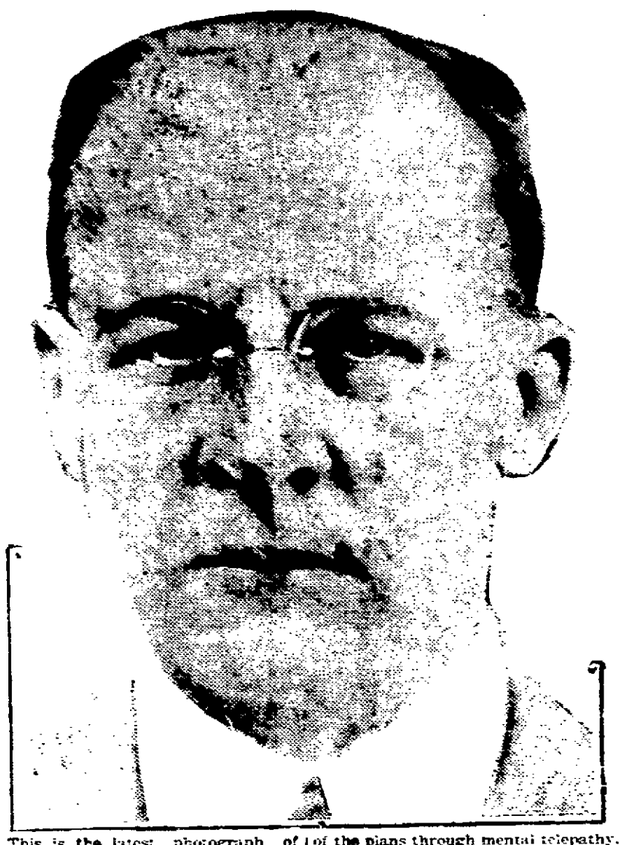

Chicago—Requiem services for poor old Dobin were in order at the annual meeting of the National Horseshoers' association, opening here today.

The number of horseshoers in the country has been cut in half during the last four years, Bernard Gorman, Chicago, said, due to a proportionate decrease in the number of horses. The auto has driven horses from the streets, he said.

Many animals were also killed during the war.

The cost of manicuring a horse was set at $5 $6 for trimming hoofs and shoeing and $3 for cutting hair.

May Know About Explosion

This is the latest photograph of Edward Fischer, arrested in Hamilton, Ont., after it was learned that he had warned friends that an explosion had been planned for Wall street. His brother-in-law alleges that he learned of the plans through mental telepathy. Fischer was taken to New York today to be questioned by federal investigators. It has been charged that he is a madman and also that he was interned in a Canadian camp for enemy aliens during the war.

PHILIPP IS OUT FOR WEST'S SCALP

Wilcox Supporter May Lose His Job as Chairman of State G. O. P.

By United Press Leased Wire

Madison, Wis.—Support of State Senator Roy P. Wilcox during the recent gubernatorial campaign may cost George P. West, chairman, and Carl Macassey, vice-chairman, both of Milwaukee, their jobs on the state central committee when the state G. O. P. convention is held here tomorrow.

While leaders of both the Philipp and Blaine factions of the party, who will run the gathering on Tuesday, are silent, it is reported that they have practically agreed upon Lawrence Whitter, Edgerton, executive secretary to Gov. Philipp, and former speaker of the assembly, as the new chairman. Alvin Peterson, campaign manager for Senator Lenroot, is mentioned for the vice-chairmanship.

Attorney General J. J. Blaine, republican nominee for the governorship, and a La Follette follower, is said to be eager for harmony when the gathering gets under way. It is reported that the state platform will contain planks gleaned from he platforms of Colonel Gilbert Seaman, defeated by Blaine, and from that of Blaine.

The platforms of Wilcox, Hull and Tittemore will be ignored, it is understood.

The convention gets under way at noon in the assembly chamber of the state house.

SEEK WOMAN TO SOLVE LATEST CHICAGO MURDER

By United Press Leased Wire

Chicago—An unidentified woman was sought by police today in an effort to clear the death of David Slavins, wealthy traveling salesman whose body was found in the apartment here of Miss Jean Lawrence.

Max Cohen, son of a wealthy jeweler here, was held by police today in connection with the murder of Slavins. In an alleged confession, Cohen admitted choking Slavins in a battle over the affections of Miss Lawrence, according to police.

Miss Lawrence has admitted, police said, another woman was with her when the fight was staged.

FIVE SLAIN IN QUARREL OVER PROPERTY RIGHTS

By United Press Leased Wire

Halifax, N. S.—Five lives were lost yesterday in the village of Sampson's Corners, the result of a rustic quarrel over property rights.

Hareiock Veniot, objecting to the acquisition of his property by outsiders, shot and killed his father, Havelock Veniot, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Ritcey and Abner Snyder.

A half hour later he shot and killed himself. Veniot, authorities said, had shown signs of being mentally unbalanced and his condition was aggravated when his father agreed to lease a portion of his property to the Ritceys.

Steamer Blocks Channel

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—The steamer Hoback which grounded and blocked the Neebish channel for several hours Sunday, was to be towed to Cleveland, Ohio, today.

Tugs succeeded in swinging the ship from the channel and divers found the hull badly damaged.

LIKEN BOMBERS TO DRY LAW VIOLATORS

Washington Preachers Use Wall Street Blast as Text for Sermons.

Washington, D. C.—The New York explosion served as a text on defiance of the law for a score of Anti-Saloon league officers occupying Washington pulpits today and inveighing against nullification of the prohibition amendment. Among the speakers were Dr. F. Scott McBride of Chicago, and Capt. F. P. Ebbert, another Illinois prohibition leader.

"Permitted lawlessness on prohibition in any city," said Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the league in his sermon, "encourages all other lawbreakers.

Bomb Thrower's Argument

"The bomb thrower in New York insists that he has the same right to violate the law against bomb throwing that liquor dealers have to trample the national law and constitution in the dust.

"Most people are waking up to the fact that breaking of the law at one point is like the leak in the dike if not stopped quickly sweeps away the whole structure and all the people are engulfed in lawlessness. The issue at stake in sustaining the eighteenth amendment is more vital than the wet and dry issue.

"It is a question of maintaining the foundations of government. Those who encourage violation of law, whether they be public officials or private citizens, have no right to complain when the anarchist throws his bomb or the bolshevist hurls a brick through the window."

ITALIANS HAUL DOWN RED FLAG

Settlement of Industrial Dispute Is Promised in New Control Bill.

(By Camillo Cianfara)
By United Press Leased Wire

Rome—Italy prepared today for an experiment in economics by granting labor an extensive share in the management of factories. With a decree issued for a commission of workingmen, employers and technical experts to draft a control of industries bill, a movement to evacuate factories seized by employes was under way.

Conferences between employers and employes in cities where plants were taken, were reported today to have resulted in no agreement except on the punishment of workers for crimes committed while in the plants. That was regarded as a minor matter and in Naples, Turin and Genoa, red flags were hauled down.

Owners again took possession of their property.

Representatives of workingmen called on Premier Giolitti to urge that parliament be convened at once to enact the control bill. The request was refused on the ground the commission first should meet and prepare the measure.

The Clio Club will hold its regular meeting Monday evening with Mrs. Frank Harriman, 626 Rankin street.

BABY CLOTHES MADE BY ARMLESS MOTHER

By United Press Leased Wire

Denver, Colo. — Dainty baby garments, made by a mother who is armless, awaited the daughter who was born to Mrs. J. C. Teagarden here today.

"Where there's a will, there's a way," Mrs. Teagarden said today at the hospital.

She made all the clothes for the expected baby during the last few weeks. She guided the cloth under the sewing machine needle with her chin, stitched, cut out patterns and threaded the needle with her feet.

Mrs. Teagarden was born without arms. The baby's outfit is more complete than that of most arrivals at the hospital maternity ward, nurses said today.

The baby is normal.

POLES CLAIM NEW SUCCESS IN DRIVE

Warsaw Avers Reds Have Been Driven Into Marsh—Peace Parley Delayed.

By United Press Leased Wire

Warsaw. — Bolshevik troops have been driven northward to the Pinsk marshes along the whole Dniester river front, the Polish communique claimed today.

In the south the Ukrainians occupied Czertkow and Buczacz, it said.

Peace Parley Delayed

London. — A Riga dispatch to the London Chronicle today said the formal Polish Russian peace conference had not been begun yet, but that John Dombski and Adolph Joffe, the two leaders, had had a two hour conference.

The conference was secret, Joffe, the soviet agent, was reported to have gone to the meeting place in a limousine, one of the former Czar's royal cars. The delegates will gather for the main conference in the "Hall of the Blackheaded Knights."

It was a gathering place for wealthy and noble Russians and still is decorated with pictures and symbols of the old days.

Fighting Continues

London.—A wireless dispatch from the soviet military headquarters in Moscow today said fierce fighting continued in the Kovel region, northeast of Lemberg.

COMMITS SUICIDE TO AVOID TRIAL

Millionaire "Hide King" Takes Carbolic Acid in Steamer Stateroom.

By United Press Leased Wire

Detroit. — Bair Crohon, of Grand Rapids, treasurer of the firm of Crohon and Roden, with headquarters in Boston and known during the war as the "millionaire hide king," because of his heavy speculations in hides, was found dying today in his state room aboard the steamer Western States which arrived here from Cleveland.

He had taken carbolic acid. He died at the receiving hospital a short time after the body was discovered.

From newspaper clippings found in his pocket, it was believed Crohon was attempting to dodge a grand jury warrant issued in Boston charging him with grand larceny of $58,972. He was arrested last Monday in Grand Rapids and was allowed to go alone to Boston to face the charge.

Instead of going to Boston, Crohon went to Corry, Pa., where last Sunday he attempted suicide by taking gas, according to two notes found in his pockets.

DEMOCRATS FIND NEW ARGUMENT FOR LEAGUE

By United Press Leased Wire

New York—Submission of the Aland Islands dispute between Sweden and Finland to the league of nations was used today as a democratic campaign argument.

"Americans should mark well the statement of Premier Branting of Sweden, that the league of nations will be able to avert between Sweden and Finland a situation which might have led to war," said George White, democratic national chairman, in a statement.

"The league will arbitrate the dispute between the two countries as to domination of the Aland islands and its agencies of publicity and delay," continued the statement. "are thus proved to be the great peace-making devices which the world longs for in international disputes."

G. A. R. CONVENTION CITY IS CROWDED BY DELEGATES

By United Press Leased Wire

Indianapolis, Ind.—Unable to find rooms in hotels or private homes, thousands of veterans here attending the thirty-fourth annual G. A. R. convention, were "camping on the old camp ground" today.

The housing committee obtained bunking quarters for the visitors in the state house, schools, barracks and other public buildings.

Thirty thousand delegates had arrived today and it was expected 100,000 would be here by the middle of the week.

FIRST SCHOOL DISTRICT PUTS OFF BUILDING

Electors Instruct Board to Purchase Remainder of School Block.

REPAIRS ARE UNDER WAY

Building Is Improved to Meet Objections of State Education Office.

With alterations completed by which its building will be made sanitary, well lighted and adequate for school purposes for several years, electors of the first school district voted Saturday evening to postpone erection of a new building. This action followed modification of the order from C. P. Cary, state superintendent of schools, condemning the present structure. Building plans have not been abandoned entirely, however, as a resolution was adopted directing the board to acquire the remaining land on the block where the school is situated.

About 40 electors were present at the meeting, which was held in the school building. Paul V. Cary, chairman of the board, presided and presented the report of the advisory committee of 15 which had been appointed at the June meeting, when the question of building a new school came up. The report reviews every step taken in the matter and recommends that building be delayed until later because of the present high costs.

The report quotes the resolution growing out of Supervisor George H. Drewery's condemnation order, appointing the special committee. It tells of C. P. Cary's visit to Appleton and subsequent inspection of the school. He was informed by the board that practically everything he had ordered done had already been ordered. The state superintendent then informed the board that he would modify the order and not require a new building erected, providing the repairs and improvements were carried out. Another inspection is to be made about October 1, by which time the changes are supposed to be completed.

The changes outlined in the report involve all three floors of the building. A girls' toilet has been added to the present facilities and the boys' toilet doubled in size. Separate stairways from the first floor to the basement have been provided in each case. The two heating plants were overhauled and an adequate fan system for ventilating installed.

All rooms and most of the halls on the first floor have been redecorated in soft colors. A portion of the wall above the door of the kindergarten and first grade hall is to be removed to permit a large transom to be installed, which will give considerable additional light. Two dark rooms were treated in the same way by placing transoms over the windows.

One dark room on the second floor will receive better light by adding transoms. Rubbler fountains have been ordered for each floor. Additional radiation has been installed in the assembly room and plans are under way to improve the ventilation. The glare of the lighting system will be removed by some method. A passageway has been installed between the two wings of the buildings so that it will not be necessary for pupils to pass through one of the class rooms. Other minor improvements are included in the plan, all of which the board believes will remove the objections of the state officials.

This report was adopted by the meeting after only a brief discussion. No one seemed to question the wisdom of deferring building until later.

The committee recommended that a policy for rebuilding be formulated, and stated that the logical place for the new structure was on the lot where the building is now situated, instead of across the street. Purchase of the entire block was suggested.

This part of the report was taken up in a resolution which directs the board to "purchase for the district from time to time as in its judgment may seem advisable, such portions of said block as said board sees fit, with a view to ultimately acquiring for the district the entire balance of said block." This resolution was adopted, including authority to borrow needed sums.

The building was lighted from top to basement while all who attended the meeting made a tour of inspection to view the repairs that had been made.

Rev. G. M. Rourke, D. D., made this statement in a sermon here Sunday.

Dr. Rourke said the apostle Paul from the front porch of a rented house in Rome for two years spoke to delegations that made pilgrimages there and during that time he wrote many letters to those who did not visit him.

'RED' SOLONS TO BE GIVEN SEATS

Seating of Five Expelled Socialists Comes Before New York Legislature.

By United Press Leased Wire

Albany, N. Y. — The legislature, meeting in special session tonight to consider the housing situation, will be confronted with acceptance or rejection of the five socialist members of the assembly expelled last spring on charges of disloyalty.

The socialists were reelected in special elections held in New York city last week.

Indications pointed today to the assembly reversing its action and voting to seat the socialists—the republicans on the grounds of "political expediency," and the democrats as a matter of partisanship.

Major Lewis Cuvillier, New York democrat, had a resolution prepared instructing the judiciary committee to report back to the assembly on the eligibility of the five socialists. He planned to submit this immediately after the assembly convenes tonight. He was one of the leading figures in the prosecution of the socialists.

Speaker "Tad" Sweet, republican, who took the initiative in expelling the socialists, has publicly announced his intention of resuming the fight to oust them.

JOHNSON SWINGS HAMMER IN PRISON STONE QUARRY

Investigation of Blast Which Wrecked Wall Street Starts in Earnest.

FISCHER REFUSES TO TALK

Alleged Madman Arrested in Canada Reaches New York for Examination.

By United Press Leased Wire

New York—The grand jury today was to begin its investigation of the Wall street explosion. Officials of the Dupont Powder company will be questioned, it was reported, as ti the statement made to the police that one of their red explosive wagons was seen not far from Broad and Wall streets a few minutes before the disaster.

The Dupont officials, it was understood, will testify one of their trucks was in that vicinity, but it contained no explosives.

The department of justice has refused to accept custody of Alexander J. Brailovsky, editor of the Russian Voice, a newspaper. Brailovsky was arrested by police as a suspicious person. Chief W. J. Flynn, of the department of justice investigators, said he did not want Brailovsky arrested. Sergeant Egan, head of the police bomb squad, was to appear against Brailovsky in polile court today. The federal authorities denied they were hunting for Carlos Tresca, an Italian lecturer and editor.

In their search for the magazine from which the Wall street explosive was obtained, the federal authorities have extended their investigation outside New York state, it was learned today.

Twenty-two witnesses were summoned to appear before the grand jury in connection with the investigation. Assistant District Attorney A. J. Talley said Fischer would not be called to testify.

The first six men called were:

Wilbur B. Fuller, secretary of the trucking division of the Dupont Powder company's plant at Jersey City.

Dunham Belden, owner of the automobile that was destroyed in the blast, and four eye-witnesses.

Four storekeepers before the grand jury today were said to have testified that Sept. 10 a male customer asked to see ten two pound sash weights. Their descriptions were reported to have tallied in important particulars. Sash weights did much of the bomb damage.

Other witnesses included traffic policemen and Peter Finnegan, blacksmith, who said he shod the hoofs of the horse that drew the bomb wagon. He did not recall the owner of the horse.

Traffic policemen on duty in the financial district the day of the explosion said they had seen no explosives wagons.

The testimony of one witness was that he had seen a red dynamite wagon.

Fischer in New York

Edwin P. Fischer, who warned his friends to keep out of Wall street before the explosion there last week, arrived here today from Hamilton, Ont., accompanied by detectives.

There was no formal charge against Fischer. He was arrested in Hamilton, Ont., on a charge of insanity preferred by Robert Pope, his brother-in-law, and agreed to come to New York to answer questions as to where he got advance information about a disaster in Wall street.

Asked for a statement, Fischer said?

"I won't talk."

While crossing the street to a restaurant for breakfast, Fischer picked up two cigarette butts which he put carefully in his pocket.

Fischer picked up two cigars from the floor of the grand central station, but they were taken away from him by detectives who said they might contain poison or notes.

"They look like pretty good cigars," commented Fischer with a smile.

Fischer was not handcuffed and he led the procession of police and newspapermen stepping briskly into the subway train which conveyed the party down town. He is a big man and was the most conspicuous figure in the group.

May Be Enemy Alien

Toronto, Ont.—Lieut. J. H. Sproul today told police he believed Edwin P. Fischer, arrested in Hamilton Friday, is Paul Fischer, held in a Nova Scotia internment camp as an alien enemy during the war.

Sproul, sick in bed, when he saw newspapers with pictures of Fischer, got up and went to the detective office where he told his story.

"Fischer particularly impressed me because he caused more trouble than all the rest of the men put together. The Fischer of the internment camp was a good pianist and led an orchestra of 40 pieces formed by the prisoners. The records showed that he was a New Yorker. He was captured as an enemy alien in the first days of the war.

"He was one of a party of several hundred men who left the United States and tried to get to Germany by way of Mexico City."

Giants Win First

Polo Grounds, New York—Cincinnati was practically eliminated from the National League pennant race when it was defeated by New York, 5 to 2, in the first game of a double header Monday afternoon. WEALTHY CATS GET LUXURIES

Pet Felines Live Like Kings and Pose for Movies in Kitten Cottage.

New York—The dog commands sympathy or even respect. The sale of a pet dog is a stock tragedy in pursuit cartoons. But no right minded person thinks of working up sympathy for a cat. The cat is the victim of prejudice, well founded or not, and there are comparatively few to espouse the feline cause.

One of the few is Mrs. Maime C. Roberts, proprietress of Kitten Cottage, a little shop devoted exclusively to the care and comfort of felines. Kitten Cottage looks like a stove from the outside and like a pretty blue and white boudoir within. There are about 50 cats in the establishment, all Persians, the Angora and the common or backfence tabby being barred. Rocking chairs, family photographs, decorative little baskets, a writing desk, miniature wicker furniture and even feline combs and brushes occupy the cottage. And, of course, cats.

The visitor must watch his step, for many of the ornaments that look like fine rugs are dozing kittens. White kittens, cream kittens, tawny kittens, "tortoise shell" kittens—the feline aristocracy reposes in every corner. Most of these high born creatures glance at intruders through half opened eyes and resume their slumbers, looking bored. But not Creamette.

"Creamette is very fond of men," observed Mrs. Roberts.

The hint was sufficient. Creamette clambered to the reporters' knee and began to make mewing passes at his necktie. She seems to have well developed aesthetic tastes.

"If people knew cats as I know them," said Mrs Roberts, "they would esteem them more highly."

Prince David, Progenitor

The prize of the establishment is Prince David, a white, blue eyed cat, for which Mrs. Roberts has refused an offer of $5,000. Prince David's offspring last year netted his owner about $1,500, and this year's family may be even more valuable.

Mrs Roberts picked up a fine piece of silk ribbon lying on a table.

"This is a present for a cat that's boarding here," she remarked. "It was sent by its mistress. They send them all kinds of things."

"I suppose they write to them, too?" said the reporter.

"Certainly. We get little love notes every day addressed to kittens. Kittens expect that sort of thing."

Most of Mrs. Roberts' cats are economically independent. There are many movie actresses among them and they receive wages which are somewhat higher than those of the merely human extra.

"Only a pedigreed cat knows how to follow the director," observed Mrs. Roberts. "They're scarce, and a very average cat gets $15 a day for posing. The stars get $20 or $25. The reason is that most cats, however tractable, are scared of the lights and the click of the camera. I'm training them not to mind these things."

WILL MAKE PAPER OUT OF LINTERS

Huge Mill Is Erected in South to Make Pulp From Cotton Products.

Dallas, Tex. — Successful experiments in the manufacture of pulp and paper from cotton linters has led to steps being taken here toward the construction of a paper mill to cost about $500,000. It is planned to have the pulp mill finished within six months, and to have the paper manufacturing plant in operation in about ten months. The mill will begin with a capacity of 20 tons of paper a day.

Cotton linters of the second-cut grade will be converted into book paper, high-grade writing paper, tissue paper and blotting paper.

Persons interested in the plant have a report made by Otto Kress of the federal government forest laboratory at Madison, Wis., showing that linters are excellent for those kinds of paper. A chemical engineer with twenty-five years' experience in paper mills is interested in the proposed plant in Dallas, according to the promoters.

Plants manufacturing paper from cotton-seed hull fiber, a lower grade of paper-making material than second-cut lint, already are in operation in the United States. Procter & Gamble have a 50-ton pulp mill at Atlanta, Ga., manufacturing paper from cotton-seed hull fiber and are erecting a similar plant at Memphis.

Second-cut linters can be purchased more cheaply than wood pulp, and the paper can be made more cheaply, according to figures compiled by Mr. Webb. To make one ton of wood pulp requires two cords of wood selling at $36 a ton, while to make a ton of lint paper requires 2,500 pounds of second-cut lint, selling at 2 cents a pound, handling the linters is less than that of handling wood.

MAKE GOOD MARKS IN BAIT CASTING

Chamberlain Sets New Distance Record, But Folatick Wins Prize.

A new Appleton record for long distance casting was established Sunday afternoon when G. L. Chamberlain, Appleton, tossed the fly 155 feet and five inches in the bait casting tournament at the shooting park on Freedom road. Eight men competed in th contests.

The former record of 138 feet was held by William Folatick, who won the Sunday tournament for long distance casting with an average of 117 2-5 feet in five casts. He was given a set of American game bird pictures donated by the DuPont powder company. Second prize, a spun brass ash tray donated by Winchester Repeating Arms company, was awarded to D. C. Hayward of Weyauwega, who averaged 105 2-5 feet in five tries. William Harwood, Kaukauna, won third prize, two artificial casting baits, donated by W. J. Jamison company.

Harry Stoeffels, Appleton, won the casting for accuracy contest with a mark of 95.9 accurate in ten tries. He received a steel casting rod donated by the Horton Mfg. company. Mr. Chamberlain, with a mark of 95.6 accurate, won an assortment of lures given by the John J. Hildebrandt company, and Mark Catlin, winner of third prize, received a spun brass ash tray, donated by the Winchester Repeating Arms company.

Folatick won first prize in the shooting tournament with a score of 19 hits out of a possible 25. Other high shots were Sager, 17; Catlin and Bullard, 15; Chamberlain, 14.

LACK OF LABORERS; FRUIT IS ROTTING

Hundreds of Bushels of Peaches Lost Because They Cannot Be Picked.

"Thousands of dollars' worth of fruit is going to waste for lack of pickers and transportation facilities," said E. J. Zuehlke, who with Mrs. Zuehlke, Judge A. M. Spencer, Lawrence Belling and William Fries, has just returned from a ten days' visit at Benton Harbor, Mich.

Mr. Zuehlke said that he never saw trees so loaded down with peaches and that the ground beneath them was covered with fruit that was going to waste. "We cannot get them picked or shipped" was the only excuse offered by growers.

Peaches were selling at less than a dollar a bushel and the growers made no charge for all a person wanted to eat. The crop of grapes, pears and apples was fully as heavy as the peach crop and there was every indication that the greater portion of it would never reach market. Mr. Zuehlke said there appeared to be no organized effort to pick the fruit such as the cherry growers have at Sturgeon Bay.

ADMITTED THIEF ON 4 YEAR PAROLE

Court Orders Richard Drall to Pay Back Money and Support His Child.

Richard Drall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Drall of Greenville, who made away with $240 belonging to his father some time ago, and who voluntarily called at the police station last week and gave himself up, was paroled to the state board of control for four years when he appeared in municipal court Monday morning. His parents, who had made no effort to locate him, were in court when he received his sentence. Drall is 22 years old and had a wife who secured a divorce last winter. She was also given the custody of their child. The prisoner will be required to pay back the money he took from the father out of his wages and will also be required to pay his former wife $30 a month for the support of his child until the defaulted payments are made after which the monthly amount will be reduced to $20. He was given a severe scoring by the court, who made it clear to him that if he attempted to run away while under the state board of control or failed to meet the financial obligations imposed upon him that he would be required to serve a four years' sentence at Waupun.

ALLEGED WIFE BEATER FLEES FROM WOMAN JURY

Elwood City, Pa.—When John Kincaid, alleged wife beater, was told that he was to be tried by a jury of women, he hid in the woods about a mile from here for three days, according to Mrs. Kincaid. He was found by his children, who persuaded him to return home. He pleaded with his wife to withdraw her charge and she agreed. Kincaid had gone without eating or drinking during his flight.

Kincaid was arrested on Wednesday after an information had been made before Justice Wick. He was to be tried by a jury of women on Saturday. Mrs. Kincaid arrived at Justice Wick's office while six jurors were being selected from eighteen women who had answered summonses. She told her story and asked that the charge be withdrawn. This was done when she paid the costs, $11.20.

FORM GYM CLASSES FOR LOCAL GIRLS

Recreation Department of Woman's Club Completes Winter Program.

Miss Constance Johnson, secretary of the recreational department of the Appleton Woman's Club has completed her schedule for the winter program for Physical Work. The gymnastic work of the Club will be divided into two classes for the present, the strenuous gym class for girls under 25 years of age and the moderate gym class for women over that age. The former will meet from 7:15 until eight o'clock Monday evenings, and the latter will meet at the same hour Wednesday evening. All classes meet in the Appleton High School gymnasium which will be available for the use of the club three evenings a week. A class will be composed of about forty members, and if more sign for this work than can be accommodated in the two classes, new ones will be formed to meet from 6:30 o'clock until 7:15 o'clock. Each class meets only once a week, but those desiring more gym work may join two classes. The periods will be devoted to marching, apparatus work, formal gymnastics and folk dancing.

The strenuous class in folk and aesthetic dancing will meet from eight until 8:45 o'clock Monday evenings and the moderate class will meet at the same hour Wednesday evenings. Folk dances of all nations will be studied.

Miss Johnson expects to organize at least four basket ball teams with plenty of "subs." They will meet at 8:45 o'clock Monday evening. Girl's rules will be used exclusively. A class in volley ball will be coached at the same hour Wednesday evening.

Thursday evening will be reserved for the class in rhythmic dancing which is scheduled to meet from 7:15 until eight o'clock and the class in social dancing which will meet from eight until nine o'clock.

The one step, fox trot, waltz, "Dan Tuckers," Virginia reels, etc., will be learned.

Bowling promises to be a popular sport. Instruction wil be given and individual and team work will be organized. Either the Y. M. C. A. or the Arcade alleys will be used.

The hiking groups will take trips through Outagamie and near by counties Saturdays and Sundays. During the winter months, skating, sleighing and coasting parties will be planned for week-end evenings with hot chocolate served at the club rooms afterward.

The sports council of the recreational department acts as the head of the Appleton Girls Club, the individual clubs forming the body. The council originates, controlls and manages all of the events of the clubs. The council is composed of two representatives from each club or class and meets once a month.

Registration for clubs and classes will be at the club rooms on Appleton street from Sept. 22 to 30. A class requires the registration of ten and a club requires six. The winter club season is from October 1 until May 31. There are two terms of fifteen lessons each for the gymnasium classes. The first is from October 1 to January, and the second from February through May. The dancing season is divided into three terms of ten lessons each, the first from October 1 through December; the second, from January 1 through March, and the third, from March 1 through May. There will be one term of basket ball and bowling, from October 1 until March 31. The baseball season will be from March through the summer.

The club rooms will be open daily except Sundays, from 11:30 in the morning to 9:30 in the evening. On Sundays the rooms will be open from four o'clock in the afternoon through the evening.

Early registration is desirable. The rooms will be open all day for the accommodation of those wishing to join.

WANT GIRLS TO REGISTER EARLY FOR WORK AND PLAY

Registration in the clubs and classes of the recreational department of the Appleton Woman's Club will begin at six o'clock Wednesday evening and will continue for a week. The registration will be done at the club rooms on Appleton street. Early registration will be advantageous because the directors are anxious to learn if it will be necessary ao secure additional periods and arrange additional classes.

AUTO DRIVER SENDS CAR AGAINST POSTS

A young man whose name was not ascertained, damaged his Ford car Saturday evening by running into two iron hitching posts at the corner of College avenue and State street. He was going east on College avenue and in attempting to avoid hitting two other machines at the intersection of State street, turned his machine into the curb. The first post was bent nearly to the sidewalk and the other is at an angle of forty-five degrees. One front wheel was torn off the auto and the running board and fender were badly bent. No one was injured.

Attorney J. Elmer Lehr of Milwaukee, formerly of Appleton, stopped here over Sunday while on his way to Green Bay to attend circuit court.

WOMAN IN NEW YORK MURDER MYSTERY

NEW YORK—Mrs. Blanche Schulz, 20, who was mysteriously murdered in the woods along the Hudson River near Grantwood, N. J. Her husband, Frank Schuiz, gave the only clue—that she often had left home in order to try to get on the stage.

GIRL, HIT BY CAR IS UNCONSCIOUS 2 DAYS

Daughter of Robert Winter, Greenville, Dashes in Front of Automobile.

Emily, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winter of the town of Greenville, was run down Friday by an automobile driven by an Oshkosh resident named Perry and was unconscious until Monday morning. The child rallied during the forenoon sufficiently to understand what was said to her, but was unable to talk. Her chance for recovery is considered favorable.

The child was riding on an express wagon, dashing in front of the automobile. Mr. Perry immediately stopped, picked her up and took her home and then went to a neighbor's home for her father. In the meantime a physician was summoned.

While no bones were broken, so far as is known, the child was internally injured.

OLYMPIC BOWLERS FORM LEAGUE OF SIX TEAMS

Six bowling teams of five men each were formed last week at the Olympic bowling alleys and preparations have been made for starting the league season October 1. Games are to be rolled on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of each week until the schedule of 60 contests is completed. Prizes will be awarded the winners.

Teams are made up as follows:

Team No. 1, William Groth, Walter Horn, Walter Scherck, H. Zuelske and Joseph Hussman.

Team No. 2, George Jimos, H. J. Timmers, G. Coon, Robert Abendroth and F. J. Rubbert.

Team No. 3, H. Dauterman, W. Ruth, H. Kositzke, A. Anderson and M. Fermil.

Team No. 4, B. Welhouse, E. Nabbefeld, O. Rohm, J. Schultz, and Henry Stratz.

Team No. 5, H. Hern, J. Hart, A. Schroeder, W. Plaman and P. Berringer.

Team No. 6, Joseph Stecker, M. Rehfeldt, H. Scheer, I. Zumack and H. Braeger.

COOKING DEMONSTRATION AT VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

A demonstration of practical cooking with a steam pressure cooker will be held at the Vocational school at three o'clock Wednesday, under the auspices of the home economics department of Appleton Woman's Club. The demonstration will be under the direction of Miss Mabel Burke, assisted by a professional demonstrator. Canning, meat cooking and the preparation of a simple meal will be demonstrated. The club has extended an invitation to all women of the city, whether club members or not, to attend this meeting.

MENOMONIE MAN GIVEN HIGH SCHOOL POSITION

Harold I. Becker of Menomonie, has been elected to fill the vacancy in the manual training department of the Appleton High school created by the resignation of Phillip Berofka. Mr. Becker is a graduate of Stout Institute at Menomonie and has attended three summer school sessions there and one at the University of Wisconsin. For two years he has been the supervisor of manual training in the senior high school at Stoughton. Mr. Becker was married last spring to Miss Ann Radford of Hermansville, Mich., who is well known here, having graduated from Lawrence College two years ago.

STOLEN AUTOMOBILE IS RECOVERED HERE

An automobile stolen from W. C. Uhlenbrauck, Black Creek, August 4, was found in a local garage Saturday by Detective John Duvall. The machine had been placed in the garage the night following the theft, but the proprietor was unaware that it was a stolen car. He believed the man who brought it there intended to call for it. The machine has been restored to Mr. Uhlenbrauch.

CRANBERRY CROP NOT AS LARGE AS LAST YEAR

Madison. — Wisconsin's cranberry crop will be approximately 38,000 barrels this year as compared with 44,000 last year and 30,000 barrels in 1918, according to reports of growers to Joseph A. Becker of the Wisconsin Cooperative Crop Reporting Service (U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates and Wisconsin State Department of Agriculture). Condition on September 1 was 91 per cent of normal, as compared to a 10-year average of 85. Acreage in bearing is estimated at 1,900 acres, the same as last year.

The United States cranberry crop is practically all grown in the three states of Massachusetts, New Jersey, and Wisconsin. It will total 474,000 barrels, compared to 541,000 barrels last year and 352,000 in 1918. Average condition is 67.6 per cent, compared to a 10-year average of 73.5. Acreage in bearing is 25,700 acres, 98.5 per cent of the acreage last year.

The Massachusetts crop is forecasted at 300,000 barrels, compared to 336,000 barrels last year; and the New Jersey crop at 136,000 barrels, compared to 161,000 last year. Condition in Massachusetts is 65 per cent; in New Jersey, 69.

Cooperative Purchase

Five Little Chute farmers have purchased a gasoline tractor and a separator from the Kaukauna Farm Implement Company of Kaukauna and are engaged in cooperative threshing. The owners are George Van Den Heuvel, Martin, Cornelius and George Van Gompel and Albert Van Dyn Hoven. The machine was set up at the Van Dyn Hoven farm last Tuesday.

Peter Schaefer was a Chicago visitor over Sunday.

GIRLS' BAND IS PLANNED BY CLUB

Many Small Organizations Are Contemplated by Appleton Young Women.

Organization of a girls' club band is one of the features planned by Miss Constance Johnson, secretary of the recreation department of the Appleton Woman's Club, according to the program made public. A director will be engaged to conduct rehearsals and teach the ensemble.

Miss Gladys Bagg, Brokaw Place, has agreed to have charge of the dramatic clubs. A study will be made of plays, both ancient and modern, and some of them may be staged during the season.

The "Up-To-Date club" promises to be interesting. It will be composed of girls who will prepare themselves for intelligent voting. They will debate questions of the hour.

The music committee is looking forward to possible concerts which the glee clubs, which will be organized, may give. There is no limit to the number of members in this organization. The girls will have an opportunity to sing in parts under a competent leader.

Mrs. W. H. Ryan will conduct the girl's club orchestra. There will be many opportunities for the organization to play for club parties and stunts.

An opera club is planned to consider stories of the operas and great singers. The lectures will be illustrated with phonograph records.

Mrs. Stephen Rosebush will lead the "Voyagers" on trips around the world. This travel club has the advantages but none of the usual discomforts of travel.

One band of the Wood Craft League has already been organized. These girls are learning to make friends with the stars, birds, flowers and trees.

Miss Adelaide McKee, physical director of the recreational department, will conduct the story telling groups. This club will learn how to tell fascinating, delightful tales to entertain their friends. Fiction clubs will read stories and study authors while the members sew.

The club rooms will be available from twelve until one o'clock for the noon hour clubs. Music, games and hot lunches will feature the hour.

COX SPENDS LAST DAY IN FAR WEST

Democratic Candidate Starts Tomorrow on Return Trip to Ohio.

(By Herbert W. Walker.)
By United Press Leased Wire

San Diego, Cal.—Governor James M. Cox, with his speech here today, was "rounding the turn" of his swing around the circle.

Touching the most distant outpost of his nation-wide stump battle here the democratic candidate after invading Los Angeles tonight and tomorrow morning will again be moving toward the strategic middle western and eastern campaign ground.

In fourteen "working days" Governor Cox has campaigned in eleven states making an average of nine speeches daily.

Cox now is in a section where it was admitted there is stronger sentiment for the league than in any locality of the west and democrats were banking on southern California piling up a majority sufficient to overcome the republican strength in the northern part of the state.

Governor Cox was to speak here at noon and leave for Los Angeles at three o'clock where a big night meeting is scheduled.

"VACATION" STRIKERS GO BACK TO OLD JOBS

By United Press Leased Wire

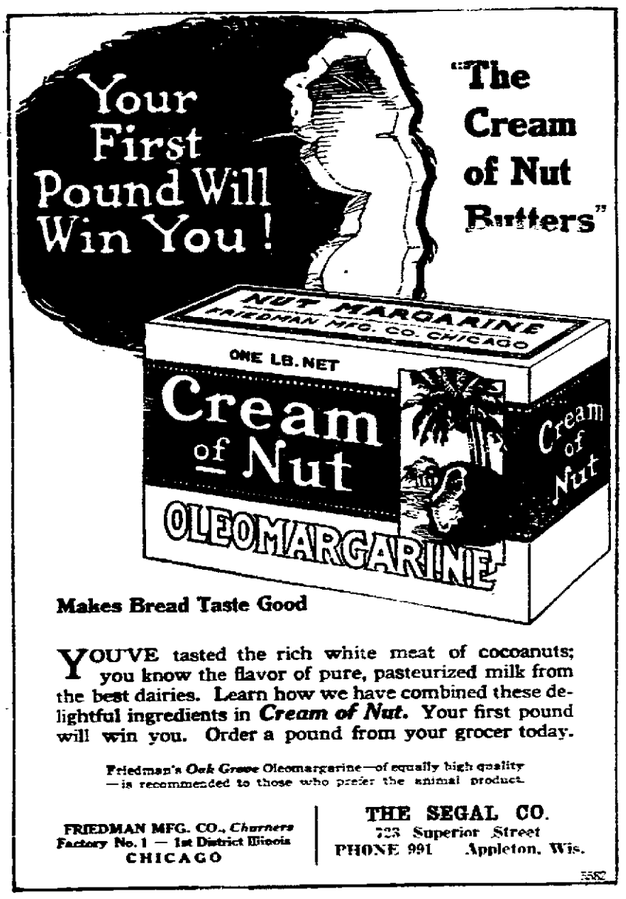

Wilkes Barre, Pa.—Anthracite miners resumed work today ending their "vacation strike" which was called because of dissatisfaction with the wage award of President Wilson's coal commission.

The walkout started September 1. Most of the companies reported all their mines on-rating with normal forces today.

HARDING AND THE HYPHEN

Senator Harding's warning to the foreign born against hyphenated citizenship is timely, not only because there are already evidences of renewed tendencies in this direction but because it has a special significance touching his own candidacy. The German-American Citizens' league is engaged in an attempt to organize German-American voters in support of Senator Harding. It has adopted resolutions indorsing him, and George Sylvester Viereck, editor of the American Monthly frankly declares in the columns of that magazine that "The Democratic candidate is impossible. He is the candidate of Woodrow Wilson and the League of Damnations. The Republican candidate is distinctly the lesser of two evils." The Indianapolis News, independent, the property of the late Senator Fairbanks, says "There is evidence of a strong and highly organized pro-German movement in favor of the election of Senator Harding."

Senator Harding cannot possibly desire to appear as the beneficiary of pro-German citizenship in this country, that is in the sense that the support is pro-German as such and that it arises from the causes and results of the war. He doubtless reflected this feeling in his Marion speech Saturday when he warned against policies which might tend to "drive into groups seeking to make themselves felt in American life men and women whose hearts are led away from 'America first,' to 'Hyphen first.'" On the other hand, Senator Harding himself should not hesitate to advocate and uphold those policies which are right and essentially American, regardless of the effect they may have upon the hyphenated elements and the hyphenated vote. If the president and the representatives of the people had hesitated in their duties in 1917 because their clearly indicated course would "drive men and women into groups seeking to make themselves felt in American life" there would have been no declaration of war. The hyphenated power would have stayed our hand and wrecked our institutions.

It is no different today. We cannot deviate from the path of duty because to stick to it arouses the hostility and organized resistance of hyphenated citizenship. We must either teach that citizenship the error of its ways through educational processes, or we must so repress it that it cannot make itself felt in our national life. The mere fact that a German-American Citizens' league has sprung into existence and is taking part in the campaign for the obvious purpose of influencing American decision to coincide with the German-American point of view is prima facie evidence that it is opposed to the American point of view. We ought not to tolerate the preservation of the hyphen in any form.

Mr. Harding will do well to disassociate himself entirely from the organized efforts of hyphenated citizenship. This does not mean of course that he should not desire the votes of German-born or German-descended citizens, for we make no distinction of race or nationality in our government. And the war makes no difference in our attitude toward them, regardless of where their sympathies lay before America entered the conflict. But when self-styled German-Americans support Mr. Harding because he is opposed to the league of nations and the Versailles treaty they betray a continuance of the anti-American attitude they displayed during the war. Such support he can have no sympathy for and he ought to expressly repudiate it. Mr. Harding probably will be elected president of the United States, and his speech Saturday indicates a realization of the fact that he does not have to, as well as that he does not intend to, compromise himself to attain this great honor. And it may be conceded that his contention that the league of nations would involve us in racial and national controversies of Europe to our detriment is honestly advanced. It does not follow that this position temporizes with hyphenated citizenship or its particular opposition to the league.

HUNGER STRIKES

A hunger strike is a political weapon. It is an effort to arouse pity in the hearts of political opponents themselves. A prisoner who tries to end his life unless he is released, does not pead his cause, nor fight it. He seeks to gain his liberty through sentimentality.

When men fight in battle, they use weapon against weapon in man to man combat. One side does not threaten suicide because the other refuses to surrender. But, when a hunger strike is the weapon that is the strategy of the campaign. For, the hunger striker says he will commit suicide unless his opponents surrender to him by giving him his liberty.

If one prisoner can gain freedom by hunger striking, so may all prisoners. The moral, therefore, is either to keep the hunger striker imprisoned regardless of consequences, or to abolish imprisonment.

Society would gravely endanger itself by allowing lawbreakers to remain unmolested at large. For that reason, society cannot afford to admit hunger striking as a reason for a pardon. The hunger striker is as morally responsible for his suicide as is any other person who takes his own life.

In the case of the lord mayor of Cork, who is on the verge of death in an English prison as a result of a hunger strike extending over a period of more than a month, the issue turns upon the justice of his imprisonment. If he is held for a crime or for reasons which justify his detention and he commits suicide whether by hunger strike or any other method the British government could not be charged with responsibility. Indeed, it could not really be held to blame for his death even though MacSwiney is wrongfully imprisoned. A man who took his life because he was the victim of injustice would demoralize British administration, although there is of course this important difference in the status of the lord mayor of Cork: He is sacrificing himself for a free Ireland on the theory that his imprisonment typifies British misrule of and injustice toward Ireland.

Undoubtedly the psychology of the test he is making at the risk of his life is well reasoned out and his death would intensify popular feeling against the British government throughout the world as well as in Ireland. Whether it would so strengthen the Irish cause as to make it invincible against British power is extremely doubtful. But whether or not the death of MacSwiney wouldserve the purpose inteded, there is much to the contention of Lloyd George that release of the lord mayor woud demoralize British adminisiration in Ireland and bring on even worse civil war and disorder than now prevail. Whether the British government is making a mistake, or whether the sacrifice of MacSwiney, in case he dies, would be futile, only time can tell.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

BABY SPECIALIST CONDEMNS CASTOR OIL

I have never mentioned castor oil in this column without knocking it, save once, and for that once I am not strictly accountable. It was in the 26th chapter of the Autobiography of a Baby. The baby was discussing the control of diarrhea and the little rascal fooled me by observing, under the head of treatment of simple mechanical diarrhea, that a single dose of castor oil might be given.

He has always been a good boy and he has shown all due respect for his father, in the autobiography and elsewhere. But you know how it is with the younger generation these days. They are inclined to think they know nearly if not quite as much as their parents do. When you and I were boys, of course we never ....

When that awful mistake came out in the unchangeable type I was dumfounded. I called sonny right in from the garden where he was digging bait and I demanded an explanation. "What do you mean, sir," I thundered, "by telling folks to give babies with diarrhea castor oil? Aren't the poor little things sick enough? Did you insist on having castor oil when you were in that plight? Speak, sir!"

"Why, father, I cannot a tell a lie," the child Georgewashingtoned, shamefacedly hanging his hat on the floor. "I copied that out of all those big books about babies over there."

He pointed to some eight or nine great works on Diseases of Infancy by the eminent pediatric professors of the country, all the latest editions. "They all give it, excepting, perhaps, Dr. Abt of Chicago. Abt aptly observes that small doses of castor oil or calomel almost invariably cause a loss of blood through the bowel, at least in microscopic quantities. But leaving Abt out of it every one of the other great baby men gives castor oil. So I just ...."

"Young man," I interrupted severely, "listen to this letter I have received from a New York baby specialist. When a New York baby specialist speaks, all others relapse into an embarrassed silence. This New York pediatrician writes me about your predilection for castor oil and he utters wisdom:

"Permit me to thank your baby for the 26th article in the 'Autobiography of a Baby' entitled 'The Control of Diarrhea.' The baby has summed up in a remarkably short space and in a manner hard to misunderstand, most of what we know about the summer diarrheas of infants. I recently took many pages in a medical journal to say about as much as the baby has covered in half a column.

"'Having coated the pill,' why did the baby ignore his father's convictions and put in that time-honored wheeze about the 'single dose of castor oil?' I ask a rhetorical question, for I know the answer—he read it in several textbooks, none of the authors of which uses castor oil in his own practice today. Old stuff dies hard. After you had done your best to kill the calomel and castor oil fetich, your own young hopeful hastens forward to lift its dying head and give it another mouthful of nourishment. It seems deplorable that your son, of all people should help to perpetuate the old superstition."

"There, now, what do you say to that, sir?" I demanded.

"Amen!" the child cried fervently. "Of course it was a mistake. Dad, let's shake and agree never again to smear our column with castor oil."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Hair and Energy

Is it possible for a girl's or woman's hair to sap her energy if it grows very heavy and long? My hair has grown luxuriantly and I feel dreadfully tired a great deal of the time. I have been told that a woman's hair may take her strength. Please explain that. (Mrs. M. F. D.)

ANSWER—It is not possible for the hair to sap energy. If that were a physiological principle, baldheaded men would run this old world completely off its bearings. There are certain disease states, such as exophthalmic goitre or hyperthyroidism, in which the hair may grow with extraordinary vigor and at the same time the patient becomes weak and possibly such associations account for the superstition. As I have said repeatedly, there is never excuse or justification for cutting a woman's or girl's hair so far as the health and well being of the woman or her hair are concerned.

Circumcision

Is it necessary to consult a rabbi in order to be circumcised? Will it improve the health of a boy 15 years old to have it done? Is it ever done at a more advanced age? Are there any ill effects or risks from the operation? Must ether or chloroform be given? (G. F. D.)

ANSWER—The family physician should be consulted about such a matter. If circumcision is for any reason necessary it may improve health. In my judgment it is required only when the condition prevents cleanliness or obstructs the flow of urine. It is often done at a more advanced age. It may be done under local anesthesia in patients over five years; under that age usually ether is given.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Monday, Sept. 23, 1895

Dudley Ryan of Green Bay spent the previous Sunday in Appleton.

Miss Josie Malone was visiting her sister at Oshkosh.

Warren Jewell of Kaukauna was in Appleton on business.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Sloan of Superior were visiting Mrs. Sloan's parents.

A daughter was born the Saturday previous to Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Putney.

Dr. Robert Leith was to move the last of the week into Worden Cook's residence at 697 Drew street. Mr. Cook's family was about to remove to Ishpeming.

Dr. Frank Studley of Milwaukee arrived from Milwaukee on his bicycle and was visiting his mother, Mrs. James Ryan.

George Adams, who spent most of the summer at his home in Chicago, resumed his duties in the score plant of the Manufacturing Investment company.

Dr. Lummis occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church the Sunday previous.

George Bergman, aged 13 years, fell from a tree and injured his spine. He was attempting to dislodge his kite.

Many fields of corn were blown down, hay and straw stacks were scattered, barns were unroofed and outbuildings were blown away during a severe storm the night previous.

J. C. Armstrong received a telegram announcing the death of his sister, Mrs. C. H. Nichols, at Trinidad, Col.

Hauert and Hagen dissolved partnership. The business was to be continued by J. J. Hauert.

The sky was brilliantly illuminated at night with the reflection of the fire that was eating its way through Center swamp.

The Wisconsin Malt and Grain company was building a new brick office.

A Forgotten American Genius

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C.—In the National Museum here is a small crude model of a steamboat, which is little noticed by sightseers, few of whom stop to read the sign that tells what it is. Yet the boat of which this is a model, and not Fulton's famous Clermont, is the true parent of the vast fleet of steamers that carry the commerce of the world.

Every schoolboy in the country has heard of Robert Fulton, but in memory of James Rumsey, who really invented the steamboat, and whose invention was indorsed by George Washington, there is nothing save this crazy little model and a few scant notices in books.

The immediate reasons for Rumsey's failure to attract attention were many, but probably the fundamental reason was only one. He was ahead of his times. The people, engaged in the crudest tasks of pioneering were not yet ready for a steamboat. Rumsey illustrates the fact that, however great his ability, a man is effective only insofar as he is in tune with his time and environment.

Of his life little is known. He was born in Cecil County, Maryland, in 1743. Then somehow, he managed to slip out of sight until after the Revolution. At the close of the war, he settled in what was then Shepherdstown, Virginia. He went into business, but made a failure, for the record shows that like most men of genius he was careless as to money. Business did not mean much to James Rumsey, for his mind was filled with an idea. A millright by trade, he had studied the subject of mechanics insofar as it was known in his day, and suddenly there flashed into his mind a picture—a boat that would go, without sails or oars. So he started to work. The task was hard; without money, without proper facilities for making the various parts necessary to complete the model, he struggled on until 1787. For four years he tried to get the people interested in his project. He showed a small model of the boat to Washington in 1785 and won praise from the Father of his Country. But that did not put money in his pocket.

Then he wrote a book, "A Treatise on the Use of Steam," to try to interest the public in his work. This book, however, had just the opposite effect, for it brought down upon his head the hostile criticism of some of the most learned savants of his day. One man in particular took umbrage at his presumption in claiming to be the originator of the principle of steam navigation and wrote a book, called "The Projector Detected." This person, whose name was Cruse, claimed that the inventor had insulted him in his "Treatise." According to Cruse, Rumsey was nothing better than a presumptuous ignoramus.

But the inventor had no time to reply to such foolish attacks. For some reason or other every attempt he made to start his machine going ended in failure. Between 1783 and 1787, he tried four times to prove his theory only to have each attempt end in disaster. But he kept on. His first trials were made at night, with only his brother-in-law and himself on board. Rumors began to circulate about this "crazy notion" as the people termed it, and the inventor came in for his full share of ridicule. In the book above referred to, the writer, asks him why it is that, if he actually has succeeded in perfecting this marvel, he witholds it from the world. But Rumsey was working. And finally, on December 3, 1787, his dream became a reality. With a cargo of more than two tons on board, and a number of passengers, among whom was General Horatio Gates, the boat moved under its own steam, at a speed of somewhat over three miles an hour.

The event had been well advertised, and thousands of people crowded the high bluffs that overlook the Potomac at Shepherdstown to watch the start. The engine was of the crudest: for a boiler he had simply a large copper kettle of the type that was used in those days in every household. The rest of the engine was equally crude, having been built for the most part in the local blacksmith shop. But finally it warmed to its work, and amid the breathless silence of the crowd, the boat moved. "My God, she moves!" exclaimed Gen. Gates. That was the first successful attempt to propel a boat by any other means than the primitive wind and muscle system.

While working on his model, Rumsey had endeavored to obtain patent rights on his idea from the various state legislatures, for in those days the U. S. Patent Office had not yet been created. But so far he had only succeeded in getting protection in Maryland and Virginia.

For someone else had gotten there first. About the same time as Rumsey was working on his model in Shepherdstown, a shrewd, unprincipled charlatan by the name of John Fitch claimed that he had conceived the idea of a steamboat. No one ever saw Fitch's boat in action, but he managed to get some grants from several of the state legislatures, and being something of a writer, to caricature Rumsey in a rather unfavorable light. Fitch went to General Washington for a letter of introduction to the Governor of Virginia, but Washington refused to give it to him, stating that he had seen Rumsey's model at least a year before Fitch had even conceived the idea.

Early in 1788 Rumsey went to Philadelphia. He had already met Dr. Benjamin Rush, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence and had succeeded in convincing him of the soundness of his idea. So on his arrival in Philadelphia, Dr. Rush introduced him to the leading men of the city. A Rumsey Society was formed, and Benjamin Franklin was elected president. Funds were raised to send the inventor to England and also to help him gain his rights in this country. One writer on this subject charged that Rumsey's failure to obtain justice in America was due to the influence which Fitch brought to bear against him. The first Commissioner of Patents was a connection of Fitch, and the writer states that for this reason the Government refused to recognize the validity of Rumsey's claim. Be that as it may, Rumsey decided to try his luck on the other side.

The first thing he did on reaching England, was to apply for patent rights on his invention. Then he set about building a boat. His second vessel was larger and better constructed than the original model and many of its deficiencies were remedied in this second attempt. But he died before the work was completed.

For more than a quarter of a century admirers of the inventor, sought recognition of his claims before Congress, but it was not until 1836 that a gold medal was awarded his son as a tribute to the genius of the man who first showed the world that the steam engine was something more than a scientific toy.

This is where Robert Fulton comes into the story. Fulton was an artist of no mean ability. When a lad of seventeen he was making a good living in Philadelphia as a painter of portraits. Friends induced him to go to England that he might study under Benjamin West. He went, and by the time Rumsey reached London, young Fulton had made quite a name for himself.

Being fellow-countrymen, and Americans being none too popular in the London of the nineties, it was natural that the two men should become something more than acquaintances. Fulton in addition to being an artist was also an inventor. He used to visit Rumsey, and it requires no great stretch of imagination to conjecture something of the conversations that went on at such times.

It is not intended to imply that Fulton deliberately appropriated Rumsey's idea without giving the other credit for the work he had done. But the fact remains that Fulton, who won honor and money, only perfected a device invented by a genius who was defeated by fraud malice, favoritism and stupidity, and who died poor and unknown.

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. Can a marriage license be obtained in Canada without either person being a resident there? A. G. R.

A. The Bureau of Information of the Canadian War Mission says that American citizens may obtain marriage licenses in Canada without either person being a resident there.

Q. How many wars are going on in the world at present? I. L. S.

A. There are seventeen wars, either in active progress, or that have not been ended by signing of a treaty of peace. Two wars that belong in the latter class are the United States vs. Germany, and United States vs. Austria Hungary. The other fifteen which range from smoldering revolutions to active warfare are: Mexico, Revolution; Bolivia, Revolution; Ireland, Sinn Fein Revolution; British vs. Turkish Nationalists and Arabs in Mesopotamia; French vs. Turkish Nationalists; Hungary vs. Rumania; Polish-Bolsheviki War; Wrangel-Bolsheviki War (Russian internal war); Greeks vs. Turkish Nationalists; Egypt, Revolution; Turks vs. Armenians; Bolsheviki-Persian War; Bolsheviki-Japanese War; Korean Civil War; South China Civil War.

Q. When did people begin paying rent? P. D. K.

A. We find no exact records of the first rent paid. It is said that when the Germans conquered parts of Gaul, the land was parcelled out to chiefs, lieutenants and private soldiers. In return the holders of the land promised military service when needed. Some of the land was given to favorites who were allowed to pay in money instead of service, and the system was established. Rent was certainly known in the days that Rome flourished, there being Latin names for rent under long leasehold tenure; rent of a farm; ground rent, rent of state lands; and the annual rent payable for the right to the perpetual enjoyment of anything built on the surface of the land.

Q. What is meant by marinating in cooking? A. C. D.

A. This means the adding of salt, pepper, oil and vinegar, to a salad ingredient or mixture, allowing it to stand until well seasoned. Usually a mayonnaise dressing is added at the time of serving.

Q. How many illiteratures are there in the United States? M. E.

A. The Bureau of Education says that there are five and a half million people over ten years of age in this country who can neither read nor write.

Q. Which is the correct initial to use in marking a cuff link or belt where the name is O'Connor, McDonald, or VanHorn? F. F. P.

A. Individuals may decide this arbitrarily, but jewelers advise the combination O'C., McD., or VH. in marking silver and jewelry.

Q. To settle and argument please state which is the better pair in poker, two aces or ace and joker? T. J. R.

A. "In case of ties, the natural cards are better than combinations made with joker or deuces, because of the greater difficulty in getting them."

Q. What is the full name of the Prince of Wales? C. A. W.

A. The Prince of Wales given names are Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David. David is the name by which he is usually called in the family circle.

AID FIGHT TO GET FALL COAL SUPPLY

Chamber of Commerce Gives Facts About Coal Situation to Minneapolis.

The Appleton Chamber of Commerce has been asked to aid in a fight undertaken by the Associated Business Organizations, Minneapolis, to prevent the states of Ohio, Michigan and Indiana from seizing the bulk of the coal supply.

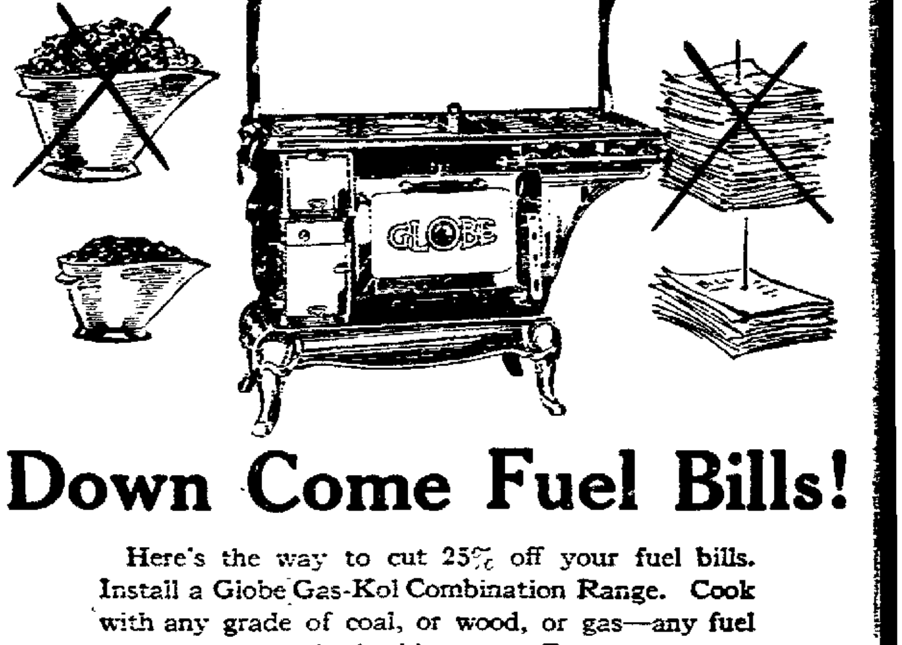

A telegram to the local chamber states that the public utilities of these states are attacking order No. 10 of the interstate commerce commission giving coal to the northwest, on the ground that it is depriving them of their normal supply. They claim to have only 25 per cent of their coal supply in their bins this fall, as against 70 per cent a year ago.

Secretary Corbett hastily gathered a statement from the local coal shippers concerning the present supply and shortage and wired this information to the Minneapolis organization in response to their request. It showed Appleton to be about as bad off as these states were, and emphasized the necessity for permitting boat shipments to continue coming in.

Mr. Corbett states that Ohio, Illinois and Indiana are in the heart of the coal mining district and can easily ship their supply by rail. Navigation closes here in about 60 days, and all shipments to this territory would have to come by rail. This would work hardship, as rail shipments take longer and cost more. He believes that the commission will continue to supply the northwest until its fall supply is in.

Confessions of a Bride

(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

THE BOOK OF ANN

Deborah Burns Could Save Jim, But He Would Never Know of It.

I almost envied Ann and Jim their happiness when they started off, next morning, on their postponed wedding trip. Jim was an "ewies" for the first time in years. Ann whispered to me that the change didn't detract from his stunning appearance in the least. The remark made me impatient. Ann frequently refers to Jim's looks, but never once have I heard her mention any of the splendid qualities which show in Jim's face and make him so distinguished in a crowd.

Owing to my new quarrel with Bob, I was in a melancholy mood that morning, and was glad to have Deborah Burns come in. Her call relieved the tension. She had come over for the frock and things she had left at Ann's the night before. She stood at my side as the auto with Jim and Ann pulled out for the station.

She and Jim were perfectly self possessed that morning, but as we waved good-bye, when the auto made the turn at the gate, I noticed that Deb's hand trembled violently.

"Life is a lot stranger than fiction," said myself to myself, later in the day, when I sat at my desk writing the last words in the Book of Ann.

It had been a book of jealousies—of women's petty rivalries, I decided. I hadn't intended to dislike Ann, neither had I always realized how much I disapproved of her. In spite of my feeling, I had helped her over some hard spots in her career as a bride. Now that Jim had come home I had no more responsibility for her.

In the Ives case I had risked my own good name to have her. In fact, Bob and I were still pulling in opposite directions as a consequence of that horrid affair. Or rather, because we had never been completely reconciled since that affair.

And I made myself see why I had been jealous of Ann. It was for a very ancient reason—one which has animated women of the same family for ages. I was afraid that Ann might provide the first of the Lorimer heirs!

Daddy Lorimer would settle a million upon his eldest grandchild. And yet it wasn't for the money that I wanted to hold my own dear baby in my arms. I wanted a child for my husband's sake. How Bob would adore me as the mother of his son!

Of course Ann's fate and mine would always be strands of the same web. We hadn't had the least thing to do with arranging our relationship, and yet there we were, acting and reacting upon each other, just because brothers had happened to marry us.

As I closed the Book of Ann I decided to have done with all family jealousies and quarrels. I would set down a record of the friendship of two girls. I had never read an intimate revelation of the kind.

Deborah and I had been cut out for friends it seemed to me. And I also knew that any one who was permitted to behold the secrets of Deborah's life would come in touch with a remarkable phase of the triangle romance.

For Deborah loved Jim in secret. And she would never betray the fact to a living soul, I felt sure. Deborah represented all that I most admire in a girl—and Ann what I like least.

Between the two, stood my adorable brother-in-law.

Would his wife destroy him? Stifle his ambitions? Thwart his better inclinations?

Or would he, like some other disappointed husbands, suddenly perceive the one girl who could save him?

That girl was Deborah Burns. She was the only woman I had ever met who was worthy of our Jim!

Would Jimmy ever find it out?

Never—if Deborah could help it.

HER DIRECTOR'S BRIDE!

New York.—Corinne Barker and her "boss" have left for Europe on their honeymoon. Corinne is leading lady for Hobart Henley, Selznick movie director, and also, now, his wife. They surprised their friends by the wedding announcement just before sailing.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

Clothes mildew very quickly in hot weather.

All the washing in the world will not remove these grayish stains. There seems to be no stain much harder to remove. This use of chloride of lime will take out most mildew stains:

Put 1 teaspoonful of chloride of lime in 1 quart of water. Dissolve and strain twice. Dip mildew pieces into liquid. Lay in the sun. If the stains have not disappeared when the article is dry, dip again in the solution.

Buttermilk is also a remedy for mildew.

Menu for Tomorrow

BREAKFAST — Orange juice, scrambled eggs with dried beef, toast, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Ham toast, radishes, oatmeal cookies, tea.

DINNER—Stewed chicken with beans, sliced cucumbers, bread and butter, apple jelly, baked apples with sugar and cream, coffee.

My Own Recipes

This dinner is a typical country dinner such as is served by the country housewife to the "hands" during harvest. The cucumbers may be sliced into a deep bowl, sprinkled with salt and pepper and vinegar poured over them. Serve in small side dishes.

HAM TOAST

2 tomatoes.
3 eggs.
1 tablespoon butter.
½ cup chopped ham.
1 teaspoon minced onion.
¼ teaspoon pepper.
4 squares buttered toast.

Peel tomatoes and chop. Melt butter, add onion and tomatoes and cook about ten minutes. Add ham and cook until ham is thoroughly heated. Remove from fire, add eggs slightly beaten and stir over fire until thick. Pour over toast and serve.

OATMEAL COOKIES

1 cup sugar.
¼ cup butter.
½ cup lard
2 eggs.
1 teaspoon cinnamon.
½ teaspoon cloves.
4 tablespoons sour cream.
¾ teaspoon soda.
½ teaspoon salt.
1 cup chopped raisins.
2 cups flour.
2 cups oatmeal.

Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs, well beaten. Dissolve soda in cream. Add to mixture. Add dry ingredients. Put the raisins in the flour. Mix thoroughly. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto a buttered and floured sheet and bake in a hot oven.

AUTOISTS HAVE NARROW ESCAPES

Week-End Accidents Are Numerous, But No Serious Injuries Result.

Several automobile accidents occurred over Sunday, but no serious personal injuries resulted, although one or two of the cases were considered narrow escapes.

A Ford machine owned by Joseph Schulde, Kaukauna, crashed into the show window of the Schueler clothing store, 739 College avenue, Saturday evening. Mr. Schulde cranked the engine unaware that he had left it in gear. The car stated forward, mounted the curb and came to a stop when it struck the building. Mr. Schulde managed to step out of the way and save himself from injury. Mrs. Schulde and Bernard Schulde were seated in the machine, but were unhurt. The plate glass window was smashed.

Six occupants of a Ford sedan narrowly escaped serious injury late Saturday evening on the Lake street crossing of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, when a box car struck the front of their machine. A freight crew was making a "flying" switch, sending a car along the tracks on its own momentum. The driver failed to see the box car approaching until it struck the automobile. The occupants of the automobile were John Van den Brock, Gilbert Van den Brock, Erwin Paschen and John M. Kindler, Kaukauna; Miss Gladys Paule, Waupaca; Bertha Klemick, Stutsenville. All suffered minor bruises and cuts, but were able to return home after being attended by a physician. The front wheels of the automobile were broken, the engine partly damaged and other parts of the machine broken.

A machine driven by A. L. Grove, Menasha, had the rear end damaged late Sunday evening when struck by another machine, at the corner of Lake and South River streets. The other driver kept on going. Mr. Grove was unhurt.

Erwin Kramer, 365 Vine street, escaped serious injury Saturday when his motorcycle was damaged in a collision with an automobile owned by A. W. Pantz and driven by his son Earl, Reedsville. The accident occurred at the corner of Pacific and Oneida streets. The front of the motorcycle was smashed, but neither Mr. Kramer nor the other two men were hurt.

An elevator has been installed in the president's yacht Mayflower to save him climbing the steps.

EVERY FLOWER HAS STORY OF ITS OWN

The Sunflower

The sunbower is the symbol of constancy and adoration.

In Peru, the sunflower was much reverenced because of the sun-worship which was then prevalent. The Spanish invaders introduced it to Madrid. It was extensively raised by the Indians who used the seeds for food.

Widely Cultivated

In Russia, the sunflower is widely cultivated. The seed is used for food or for making oil. The oil cake is fed horses and cattle, while the stalks are used for fuel. In China, a beautiful silk is made from the fiber of the stalks.

Changed into Flokef

A Greek legend tells of the origin of the sunflower and why it is the symbol of constancy and adoration. Clytie was a beautiful water nymph. One day she left her home among the waves and went to Olympus, where she saw Apollo, the sun-god, and fell wildly in love with him. Apollo, however, was enamored of Calliope, the muse of epic poetry, and paid no attention to Clytie. So she sat on the ground gazing at the sun from the minute it appeared until it dropped beyond the horizon. For nine days Clytie sat and pined away, refusing to return home. Finally her limbs sank into the earth and became roots, her body a slender stem and her beautiful face became a flower resembling the sun and following its course all day long.

FROSH AND SOPHS IN ANNUAL FIGHT

Annual All College Day Events Are Being Held at Clifton Today.

Lawrence campus is a quiet and dead place today due to the fact that practically every student is at Clifton where the annual All College Day events are taking place. The students and faculty boarded the steamer Paul L. at the government dock at nine o'clock for the trip across the lake. They expected to reach their destination in time for lunch. Each class will eat its picnic at some of the traditional picnic spots. Early in the afternoon the annual contest between the freshman and sophomores will take place. They will battle for honors in soccer football, bag rush and tug of war.

After the games and contests supper will be served the party, probably aboard the boat.

The strife between th members of the first two classes at college is generally settled in all college day contests and the hatchet is buried for the rest of the year.

Good Furniture

In buying Furniture, you should always keep in mind that you are going to live with it for a long time. Furniture that is hastily selected and bought simply because of low price, often developes into a disappointment.

The happiness of your home life depends largely upon the sort of furniture you buy. It must first of all, be harmonious; take a definite part in your interior decorations; and give satisfying service.

We pride ourselves on the quality and exclusive style of our furniture—and that our prices are very moderate, and as low in price as asked for furniture of doubtful quality and questionable design.

Twelve Special Davenports in Tapestry just arrived. Five luxurious pieces, extra deep and full size, two style arms, covers in selected patterns and colors—an unsusual offering for this week only at $169.00

WANT CHANCE FOR CITY FOLK ON FARM

Division of Markets Believes More Production Will Cut Prices.

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Madison, Wis.—The Division of Markets in its investigation of the high cost of living problem has pointed to defects in the distribution system, such as the duplication of services, lack of storage facilities, and monopoly of certain distributive agencies, as responsible for the high prices of essential commodities.

The Division is of the opinion that there are two methods which should be followed in trying to lessen the present conditions which are caused by high prices. One of these methods is to eliminate either by federal, state, or municipal action the defects in our system of distribution. The other method is to give a chance to those people who are willing and capable of working on farms to settle on the land.

The Division of Markets does not by any means advocate a migration from the city to the farm. But it considers that there are people in cities who would make a success at farming if an opportunity were given to them.

The Division is of the opinion that there should be an open road from the city to the land, so that opportunities should be afforded to those who are tired of the unbearable conditions caused by high prices and who are willing and able to go to the soil and produce themselves the things which are essential to life.

The Division believes that these opportunities will not only relieve conditions in cities, but will also tend towards a stable social organization. The larger the number of independent small owners in society, the greater is its stability.

The Division considers that it is essential that the state undertake to make land accessible to these city people who are able to adapt themselves to farm life and work.

$60,000 BLAZE IN MILWAUKEE SUNDAY

Every Downtown Fire Company Takes Part in Two Hour Fight With Flames.

Milwaukee—A downtown fire that caused an estimated damage of $60,000 and for a time threatened totally to destroy two story brick building at 493-503 Broadway was discovered early Sunday morning.

The blaze, which proved a stubborn one, was put under control only after every available fire company in the downtown district had battled with it for nearly two hours. Accompanying the fire was an unusually dense smoke which hindered the work of the fire-fighters and attracted hundreds of churchgoers to the scene.

According to fire department officials, the blaze started in the basement of the building, where, it is said, rubbish was being burned in the heating plant.

The loss of the building, which is owned by the Michigan Investment company, is estimated by fire department officials at about $20,000, while a combined loss of $40,000 was suffered by six tenants.

STEVENS POINT PLANS ERECTION OF HOUSES

Stevens Point.—The chamber of commerce of this city is favorably considering the erection of a thirty suite apartment house to relieve the shortage of rooms here. A novel plan has been devised for financing the project, making it necessary to raise only a small amount of cash. Land and material will be accepted in lieu of cash, and stock in the incorporated company issued in return.

ARREST ITALIAN ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Milwaukee Man Alleged to Have Shot Lunch Room Owner and Patron.

Madison.—Joe Barrest, Italian, was arrested here on Sunday, charged with assault with intent to murder.

In an altercation in a local lunch room, Barrest is charged with shooting the proprietor and a visitor in the lunch room. Both men will recover.

The victims are: "Bud" Taylor, son of Mrs. Taylor, who operates a lunch room on West Washington avenue, near the Milwaukee road station. He was shot in the back and will recover.

Walter Dunn, shot in the arm.

The man, who told Patrolman Bakken of the shooting, declared that the Italian had rushed at Taylor, pointed the gun at his back and fired, swerving the weapon at Dunn and "winging" him in the arm.

Walter Dunn, according to his brother's statement, came to Madison Saturday afternoon and was to return to Milwaukee Sunday morning.

The cause of the trouble was personal words between Taylor and Barrest.

DEMOCRATS FACE DIFFICULT TASK

State Party Will Outline Its Campaign at Platform Meeting Tuesday.

(Special to Post-Crescent.)

Madison—Democratic forces have been so busy endeavoring to start a bitter row at the republican platform convention, that for the time being the democratic platform convention has been lost sight of.

The democratic party of Wisconsin has been at a low ebb for a long time, due to the loss of its strongest leaders, among them the late Senator Paul O. Husting, John A. Aylward and William Wolf, and the party's representation in the legislature has dwindled to a few members. It is doubtful whether there is a single county left in the state that could be counted democratic.

So on the face of the facts it would seem that the democrats have a pretty big job ahead if they hope to get anywhere in the coming state and national campaign in Wisconsin. Many believe that what is left of Wilson's party would be a whole lot better off if the democrats paid more attention to their own organization and less attention to the republican organization as they must be worked out at the platform conventions in Madison on Tuesday.

BAYFIELD CANDIDATES ARE LAVISH WITH MONEY

Washburn, Wis.—In accordance with law, all who were candidates for office in Bayfield county have filed statements with the county clerk, showing their expenditures during the campaign, and the several amounts total up to $1,123.86.

The largest amounts spent were by those who were defeated for office. Harry Peterson, Beloit, for sheriff, heading the list with $220.50, J. J. Fisher, Bayfield, for district attorney, coming next with $197.39, and R. W. Smith, of this city, for county clerk, with $189.50. Other expenditures were, N. M. Oscar, county clerk, $141; F. A. Bell, clerk of court, 50 cents; Andy Murray, sheriff, $56.69; A. M. Warden, $57.83; C. F. Morris, $94.60; W. W. Downs, $35.90; J. Yderstad, $34.65; W. E. Tripp, surveyor, $7.60. Alfred Frederegister of deeds; J. L. Sayles, for clerk seth, for treasurer; Nels Myhre, for of court, and Amos M. Hansen, for coroner, did not spend a cent for election, all but J. L. Sayles having no opposition.

CLAIMS ON CONNERTON ESTATE ARE DISMISSED

Racine, Wis.—The claim of Gus Bauman of Burlington against the estate of Margaret Connerton, deceased, for $900, and the claim of the administrator of the Connerton estate of $3,000 against Bauman were rejected by Judge Palmer of the County court on Saturday because Bauman and Miss Connerton were engaged to wed and whatever was done for the other during life time was done in consideration of the relationship and without agreement or expectation of liquidation except by marriage.

Bauman presented his claim for money loaned and services rendered, when the Connerton will, disposing of an estate valued at $20,000, was offered for probate.

The administrator of the estate filed a claim of $3,000 against Bauman for board furnished Bauman and his two daughters during Miss Connerton's life time.

Milwaukee—Mrs. Christine Nietzsche testified her husband was a believer in the soviet republic and made inquiries as to how he could get to Russia. She got a divorce.

Kenosha, Wis.—Edward and Fred Dayton, owners of the Virginia theater here, are responsible for an innovation in home grown criticism.

An act they booked, was, to use their phrase, "so rotten" they took it off the bill.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gaertner of Milwaukee are visiting Appleton friends.

MUSKEGON LOSS CLAIMS NOW TOTAL $117,973

Milwaukee.—As a result of the sinking of the steamer City of Muskegon, which went down off the harbor of Muskegon, Mich., on Oct. 28, 1919, claims aggregating $117,973.40 have been filed against the Holland Steamship company and the Crosby Transportation company. The Holland company owned the boat, but it had been chartered by the Crosby firm.

The claims filed by Milwaukee claimants are: Mr. and Mrs. Leo Baum parents of Alvin G. Baum, $10,000; Mr. and Mrs. Julius F. Zimmerman, $10,000; Robert N. Williams, administrator of the estate of James C. Reilly, $20,000; Emmet J. Carrigan, administrator of the estate of John Francikowski, $20,000.

For personal injuries and the loss of personal effects the following Milwaukeeans have filed claims: Walter Stempke, $284; George Watson, $201.65, and the Anderson Sales company, $91.

Bayfield, Wis.—George Summers is minus an eye.

He wanted to see why a dynamite charge placed in a stump didn't explode. It did.

Milwaukee—Sam Velant took a drink in the dark. It didn't taste right and he headed for emergency hospital. It was bluing.

The Right Perspective

Recent market events unmistakably indicate that confidence is replacing uncertainty and the outlook grows increasingly brighter for active and uptrending markets. Our market letters for weeks have directed attention to this change and have dwelt insistently upon the wisdom of comparing inherent values with market quotations. This matter is again discussed in our issue of September 10, which will be mailed upon request.

Sterling Tires

Maybe sometime, somebody, somewhere, will make a tire that will give better service than a STERLING, maybe the STERLING people will do it themselves. But it doesn't look possible. Looks like they'd reached the limit.

"I Certainly Bless The Day I Began Taking Tanlac," Says Mrs. Carter

"I spent nearly the whole of last fall in bed in a terribly run-down condition, following a bad attack of the influenza, and could find nothing that would relieve me until I took Tanlac," said Mrs. Irma Carter, of 2706 Igiehart Avenue, St. Paul, Minn.

"I no more than got over one attack of severe cold and sore throat than I would come down with another. Bad weather aggravated my trouble and I was simply miserable. My appetite failed and my stomach was in such poor condition that everything I ate bloated me up with gas and I had terrible pains in my chest and kept getting worse all the time.

"I read so much about Tanlac that I financially got a bottle and it helped me from the very start. The pain left my chest before I had even finished the first bottle. I have taken four bottles now and my appetite is so keen that I'm eating like I'd been starved. I have been relieved entirely of bloating and all other signs of indigestion, and have already gained nine pounds and certainly bless the day I started on Tanlac.

Tanlac is sold in Appleton by John E. Voigt; F. O. Brown, Shiocton; Dr. J. M. Sattler, Bear Creek; H. E. Abend, Dale. adv.

Women of Middle Age

Owing to modern methods of living not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change in her life without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms. Those dreadful hot flashes, smothering spells, fainting spells, nervous troubles and irregularities are symptoms that should have prompt attention. These two letters prove what a successful remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is for women at this time of life.

These Two Women Helped During Change of Life.

Taunton, Mass.—"I could not eat or sleep for six months, had fainting spells and could not walk without help for three months, caused by female trouble. My cousin, who was a doctor, told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me greatly. Then during the Change of Life I used the same remedy. I am seventy years old now and am able to do my own housework and walk one mile to church every Sunday morning and evening. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends having the same troubles as I had. Your remedy is the best on earth. I cannot find words to express my gratitude for it."—Mrs. Susan C. Staples, 157 B School St., Taunton, Mass.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I want to let you know what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I had organic troubles and am going through the Change of Life. I was taken with a pain in my side and a bad headache. I could not lie down, could not eat or sleep. I suffered something terrible and the doctor's medicine did me no good at all—my pains got worse instead of better. I began taking the Vegetable Compound and felt a change from the first. Now I feel fine and advise any one going through the Change of Life to try it, for it cured me after I had given up all hopes of getting better. I will tell any one who writes to me the good it has done me."—Mrs. Margaret Danz, 743 N. 25th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

MEXICO WILL AID U. S. OIL OWNERS

Retiring Mexican Chief Avers Satisfactory Agreement Will Be Reached.

(By Ralph H. Turner)
By United Press Leased Wire

Mexico City.—Renewed assurances that the new Mexican regime will cooperate with Americans in the oil fields have been given James A. Phelan of the United States shipping board, in a conference with President De la Huerta.

Phelan said today Huerta assured him that he and President-elect Obregon were in complete accord and that a binding and satisfactory agreement could be reached with foreign oil producers.

Huerta told him. Phelan said, that if the interpretation of the Mexican constitutions does not prove satisfactory amendments would be adopted which would satisfy producers, lease holders and consumers.

Huerta was quoted as saying that while Mexico would insist on her sovereign rights, she was ready to make concessions to foreigners. Most important of these was the statement that while adjacent land holders will be given preference in leases, punishment will be provided when it was shown that the grants were held illegally. This was regarded virtually as an answer to the American note regarding the rights of American oil producers.

MILWAUKEE BUILDING IS WRECKED BY BOAT

Milwaukee.—A brick building, occupied by the Independent Coffee company, along the Milwaukee river, was wrecked last night by the lake steamer Richard Star, of Cleveland, which ran into the shore. The boat was outbound when the rear end veered into the shore, striking the building. The damage to the building could not be estimated today.

The steamer was docked, pending repairs.

MAIL SERVICE AIRPLANE IS NOT SATISFACTORY

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington.—The J. L. all metal monoplanes used by the air mail service appear to be defective in the gas feeding machinery, according to Director White, of the service, today.

The J. L. type of machines were implicated in two accidents recently in which four aviators were killed.

"This defect can easily be remedied, we believe, and the J. L. will be as safe as any other machine," White said.

The J. L., a German made plane, is favored by postal and army air service officials because of its high speed.

CHICAGO MAN HEADS STATIONARY ENGINEERS

Milwaukee.—Albert Johnson, Chicago, was installed as president of the National Association of Stationary Engineers at the closing session of their convention here last night. Other new officers chosen are:

Richard E. Perry, Cincinnati, vice president; Fred W. Raven, Chicago, secretary; Samuel P. Force, Philadelphia, treasurer; Harry Hilton, San Francisco, national trustee, and L. Albert Johnson, St. Paul, national conductor. The 1921 convention will be held in Rochester, New York.

ALDERMAN BUYS HOME TO KEEP COUNCIL SEAT

By United Press Leased Wire

Milwaukee.—Arthur Shutkin, socialist alderman from the sixth ward, had to buy a home to keep his seat in the city council.

He was served with a notice to move and couldn't find another house in the sixth ward. He purchased a residence and the civil court ordered the moving notice extended for two weeks, so that the house could be given needed repairs.

New York—Mrs. Wendell Phillips, of New York, who was wounded while serving with the ambulance corps in France, has been appointed by the American Legion to represent America's war disabled at the fourth interallied conference to discuss problems affecting the disabled. The conference opens in Brussels, Sept. 19. Mrs. Phillips is president of the "Carry On" Association and chairman of the finance committee of the National Committee for Aid to Disabled Veterans. Mrs. Phillips is the only woman ever recommended to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor.

RAILS WANT 3.6 CENT FARE IN MINNESOTA

By United Press Leased Wire

St. Paul, Minn.—Minnesota railroads, in going before the interstate commerce commission here Oct. 4, will fight for a passenger rate of 3.6 cents per mile intrastate, asserting any lower rate is discriminatory.

The Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission declined to increase passenger rates recently asserting it had no authority to grant fares in excess of the two cent maximum fare law in this state. The commission announced the two cent fare law would become operative intrastate on Sept. 1. Railroads appealed for an injunction in federal court and on Aug. 30 a temporary restraining order was granted, continuing in effect the 3 cent fare authorized under the transportation act. The state has just filed its answer to this.

Railroads seek now to increase passenger fares .6 of a cent to conform to the rates recently granted by the interstate commerce commission.

BOMB EXPLOSION IN GENOA STOCK EXCHANGE

By United Press Leased Wire

Genoa—A bomb was exploded at the Genoa stock exchange today. There were no casualties and the damage was comparatively light. No arrests have been made.

The bomb exploded with a tremendous roar. From the fact that the bomb appeared to have been scientifically constructed, police suspected anarchists.

The exposive was set off by a time fuse, the bomb being hidden in a little used room.

VICTORY MEDAL BLANKS READY FOR EX-SOLDIERS

The home service office of the Red Cross is prepared to handle applications of ex-service men desiring victory medals. Two blanks must be filled out, one a sworn statement giving information from discharge papers; the other certifying to the nature of service, the sector in which the soldier fought and the battles he figured in.

Men who served only in the United States are given the medal without any clasps. Those who were in European service are given a clasp for each battle in which they fought, including Cambrai, Somme, Lys, Aisne, Champagne-Marne, Ypres, St. Mihiel, Meuse, Argonne and others. The medal thus shows at a glance how extensive a man's service record is.

A special set of blanks is provided where the next of kin applies for the medal belonging to those who died in battle. The navy blanks have not arrived, but it is stated that the recruiting officers can supply ex-sailors on their regular weekly visits here. Blanks and full information may be obtained from the home service office in the First National Bank building.

COAL MINES HAVE FIRST CALL ON FREIGHT CARS

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington—Coal mines will continue to have first call on empty railroad cars to insure a supply of winter fuel under an order of the interstate commerce commission which went into effect today.

The order extended for an indefinite period the life of the commission's recent priority list which was to have become void today.

Extension of the priority list was made necessary by the strike of anthracite coal miners which reduced the output of that fuel and decreased the supply of bituminous coal. Anthracite production fell to nearly 500,000 tons last week as a result of a strike, it was estimated here today.

Miss Mary Breiterick is teaching music and art in the public schools at Dodgeville.

Edward Bartman who recently submitted to an operation for appendicitis at St. Elizabeth hospital, is now convalescing.

J. Bryan Trompson of New Zealand who has been visiting in the city has left for the east. He will stop at Cleveland and Chicago en route.

FOREIGN WAR VETERANS CALL ON PRESIDENT

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington—A delegation from the veterns of foreign wars, which is holding an encampment here, called on President Wilson today to extend the greetings of the organization.

Captain H. N. Richards, Lebanon, Pa., stated the president told the veterans he regretted his inability to attend sessions of the encampment but was prevented by the condition of one of his legs. Richards said the president remained seated throughout the interview which lasted about five minutes.

The delegation was headed by Captain Robert G. Woodside, Pittsburgh, Pa., elected commander of the organization, and F. Warner Karling, Kansas City, Mo., retiring commander.

CHARGE SERBIANS ARE CROSSING BOUNDARIES

By United Press Leased Wire

Rome.—Italy has protested sharply against Jugo-Slavian encroachment on the 1913 boundaries of Albania, it was reported here today. The move was based on a report that Serbian troops had occupied a large section of northern and eastern Albania, advancing over territory not belonging to Serbia. The Belgrade government was said to have informed Italy that a new boundary line was designated by Gen. Franchet d'Espray, commanding the French army in the Orient.

The Italian claim was that De'Espray's modification was for the emergency only.

Britain and France were reported to approve the Italian claim.

St. Louis Wins First

By United Press Leased Wire

Boston—St. Louis won the first game of a double header here this afternoon in a free hitting contest, 7 to 6. The visitors batted out 22 hits and made four errors while Boston hit twelve safeties and made one boot. Schupp and Goodwin worked on the mound for St. Louis. Oeschger started for Boston but was driven out of the box and replaced by Townsend.

Harry L. Pughe and family of Racine have moved to the city and are living at 717 Franklin street. Miss Geraldine Pughe will take up advertising work, and Fenwick Pughe will continue his studies at Lawrence college.

DEMOCRATIC REGIME IS ACCIDENT, COOLIDGE SAYS

Boston.—Gov. Coolidge addressing the Massachusetts state republican convention declared the democratic administration has been a series of accidents.

The accidents began, he said, with the nomination of President Wilson at Baltimore eight years ago. He reviewed the eight years, asserting that America "sunk to a place of contempt in the estimation of foreign peoples," while the rising cost of living and other difficulties beset the country.

HEALTH WORKERS TO HEAR REPORTS

First Meeting of Health Department to Be Held Tuesday Afternoon.

The public health department of the Appleton Woman's club will hold its first regular meeting of the year at the Y. M. C. A. at 4 oclock Tuesday afternoon. After the business meeting there will be a report of the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations, held in Madison, by Mrs. George Ashman, who wen as a delegate from the Third Ward Parent-Teacher association. There will also be a report of the health work discussed at the ninth district convention of Federated Clubs of Wisconsin by Mrs. Paul Hackbert, delegate from the health department. Following these reports there will be discussions of topics in the Child Welfare and Crusader magazines by Miss Jean Jackson, Mrs. S. C. Rosebush, Miss Katherine Winslow and Mrs. Paul Hackbert.

Although the regular sessions of the department were discontinued for the summer months, the members have not been out of the work entirely. Through the efforts of a committee headed by Mrs. Harriet Nicholson, forty-five undernourished children from Milwaukee were placed in Appleton homes for a two weeks' outing. This is the largest number taken care of by any city in the state.

An effort was also made to have the school nurse retained in service here in order to insure the milk and cracker lunches to school children of the city for another year.

AMERICA IS WARNED AGAINST GERMAN PLOT

Mexico City—The American embassy has received a letter from Vera Cruz declaring a German named Janken has arrived there intending to use that city as a base for a campaign of sabotage against the United States.

The letter, which was signed "Louis," contained no further details.

During the war, it was learned, Janken was suspected of being a member of the German espionage forces in Mexico. He was accused of participating in various plots against the United States.

Mrs. Mary Soper of Milwaukee is visiting relatives in the city.

Keep Your Blood Pure Nature Will Do the Rest

Did you know that ninety per cent of all human ailments depend upon the condition of your blood?

Nature gives her warnings in various unmistakable ways, so that when the appetite fails, and you become weak and listless and a general run-down condition seems to take possession of the whole body, it is an unfailing sign that impurities will steadily accumulate until your general health will be seriously affected. You should recognize the importance, therefore, of very promptly cleansing out the system, and keeping the blood supply pure and robust.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. at your drugstore to day, and note how promptly it builds up the appetite and gives new strength and vitality. Write for free literature and medical advice to Chief Medical Adviser, 153 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

CENTRALIA WARNED OF RAID BY RADICALS

By United Press Leased Wire

Centralia, Wash.—That a band of radicals would invade Centralia about October 15 to get revenge for the raid on the I. W. W. hall here armistice day, was the warning given in a circular received by a local newspaper.

The letter was signed the "revenge committee" and was postmarked Milwaukee, Wis. The communication asserted the committee had arms and ammunition hidden at Butte, Mont. It stated that all Centralia residents who participated in the armistice day "raid" were marked for death.

Officials here do not take the letter seriously, it being similar to several communications which were received here during the last year.

COAL FAMINE THREATENS INDIANA'S INDUSTRIES

By United Press Leased Wire

Indianapolis, Ind.—A coal famine threatens the industrial and educational life of Indiana, Jesse Eschbach, chairman of the state coal commission, warned the interstate commerce commission at Washington today.

The coal commission and the public service commission joined in a telegraphic appeal for modification of the recent order prohibiting the routing of coal cars to wagon mines.

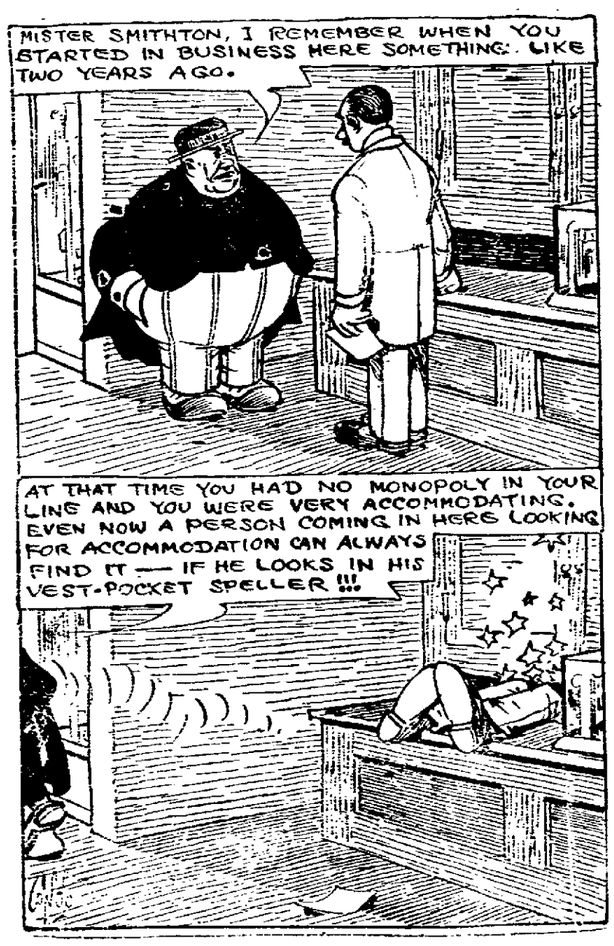

"Municipal light and gas plants and public schools are without coal in Indiana," the telegram said.

LEADERS NECK AND NECK ON LAST LAP

Brooklyn and Cleveland Still Face Possibility of Losing Pennant.

By I. R. BLANCHARD
By United Press Leased Wire

New York—The Brooklyn Dodgers have reached a stage in the National league race where a lost game is a tragedy and a bobble a mater for curses instead of grins. The Dodgers today were on that ragged edge where they are almost certain captors of the pennant but still must continue to win until no other club has a chance.

By winning yesterday from the Pirates, the Dodgers were helped somewhat. They reached a place where by taking four of their remaining games they can compel the Giants to win all twelve of their remaining games, and Cincinnati all 15 of theirs to win out. Since the Giants and Reds are to meet again today, one or the other will have his chances before dusk.

In the American league the members of Cleveland's pennant hopes were in full flame again. The Indians moved along with another victory, followed only by the dogged Chicago White Sox, who remained in second place 2½ lengths behind.

The Yanks blew another game and were well back in third place.

If the Indians can pry off seven of their remaining thirteen games they will finish with a percentage of .623. Under these circumstances it would require eight out of ten for Chicago to cop, and nine straight for the Yanks.

Denver—Angered because an employment agency couldn't get him a job, H. Williams, 25, hurled a rock through the agency's window.

Police, who are searching for him, declare they have plenty of work for him—on a big rock pile.

SCHULTZ'S BLOW WINS 1 TO 0 GAME FROM NEW LONDON

Winning Run Is Scored in Fifth Inning on Two Errors and a Hit.

GAME FILLED WITH THRILLS

Sparkling Support Keeps Visitors From Going Home With Game.

Hank Schultz's single to right field in the fifth inning, scoring Mike Murphy, broke the jinx which has been hovering over the Brandts in their games with New London and enabled the local's to defeat the visitors, 1 to 0, in one of the best played games of the season here Sunday afternoon. Two errors aided materially in giving Appleton the one run. It was Appleton's first victory of the year over New London.

Murphy started the inning by getting a life on first when Knapp at shortstop booted his gounder. O'Connor bunted to Logan who tried to catch Murphy on second but his throw was wide and drew Kuenn off the sack. All hands were safe. Prange tried to kill the ball instead of bunting, breeging out. Priebe, usually a sure hitter, also was fanned.

Then along came Schultz.

The first ball was wide of the plate and then he fouled off the next two. The fourth ball was high and then another shot waist high, just inside the plate. Schultz met is squarely and it sailed into right field for a single. Murphy legging it for home with a tally which was enough to win. O'Connor going to third. With Spies at bat, Schultz and O'Connor tried a double steal. Schultz reaching second but the catcher was thrown out at the plate.

Both teams had other opportunities to score but sparkling fielding pulled the pitchers our of bad holes. Logan pitched a wonderful game for the losers, allowing but three hits. But for the two errors Appleton would not have scored a run in the nine innings. Only four hits were garnered off Schultz, but one was a three base clout and one went for two sacks. Knapp, New London's heavy hitting shortstop, was credited with both clouts and he was also given a single.

O'Connor, Appleton's catcher, was injured in the sixth inning when he was struck over the head by Remmel's bat, but he continued in the game. His scalp was badly lacerated by the blow.

Appleton had its first chance to score in the first inning. Spies started by striking out but Bayer hit the ball between first and second bases for a single and stole second while Mudlaff was fanning. Sylvester, primed for a hit but his blow along the first base line was picked up, retiring the side.

There was nothing doing on either side until the fourth inning when Knapp tripled to deep left field after one man was out. It looked like a run but sparkling fielding retired the side. Sengstock drove the ball to Schultz who kept it until he was sure Knapp would not try to score and then whipped the ball to Sylvester in time to catch Sengstock at first. Wilson, who has been signed by the Detroit Tigers, whaled the ball to Spies for the third out.

Sylvester got the second hit of the afternoon off Logan after two were out in the fourth inning but was caught on second when he was "doublecrossed" by Sengstock. The New London catcher pretended that he had injured his hand and was nursing his finger, with the ball under his arm, when Sylvester started for second. Sengstock whipped the ball to Kuenne who caught Dutch a half dozen feet off the bag.

New London could do nothing in its half of the fifth but Appleton was able to drive in the run which spelled victory.

The sixth frame passed without incident but the seventh looked stormy for a few minutes. Knapp opened by singling through short. Sengstock's attempted sacrifice turned into a pop up which was caught by Sylvester who doubled Knapp off the first sack, making an unassisted double play. Wilson's long fly to center was caught by Prange after a long run.

The visitors threatened again in the eighth frame and again their hopes were blasted by a combination of great pitching and airtight fielding. Klawiter was passed for a starter. Dobratz fanned and then shivers were sent into the grand stand when Kuenn drove the ball into right field for a single. Klawiter going to second. Remmell fanned, putting Logan in the same position held by Schultz three inning's previous but he was unable to deliver. He cracked the ball to Spies who threw to Mudlaff, forcing Klawitter on third for the last out.

The ninth inning also was filled with thrills for spectators and ball players. It looked easy when Servatious grounded to Bayer for the first out. Knapp put a different complexion on the game, however, when he doubled between center and left fields. Sengstock slammed the ball to Spies who chucked it to Mudlaff, catching Knapp as he slid into third. Sengstock getting a life on the play.

Wilson was next up and the atmosphere grew tense. He swung at the first ball and missed by a foot. The second ball was wide of the plate and the third was fouled. O'Connor's signal for the next ball did not meet Schultz's approval and he shook his head. O'Connor tried another and that wasn't satisfactory. The catcher walked to the plate and held a conference with the pitcher.

Schultz heared a sharp breaking drop over for the last ball. Wilson drove it to Snies who tossed him out at first, ending the game.

NAME CORBETT FOR PUBLICATION BODY

Hugh G. Corbett, managing secretary of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, has been named a member of the committee on publication of the proceedings of the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries. News of his appointment came to him in a letter from William George Bruce, Milwaukee, chairman of the committee.

Mr. Bruce is president of the Bruce Publishing company, Milwaukee, and recently completed a book on "Commercial Organizations." He was formerly secretary of the Milwaukee Chamber of Commerce. He expects to call a meeting of his committee at Chicago shortly, which Mr. Corbett will attend.

NINTH INNING RALLY WINS FOR ROBINS

Double, Stolen Base and Wild Throw Enables Dodgers to Clinch Game.

Brooklyn—Brooklyn won Sunday's game with Pittsburg by 4 to 3, in a thrilling ninth inning finish. With the score tied, Neis opened the Brooklyn half of the last inning with a double. He stole third on the first pitch and crossed the plate with the winning tally when Schmidt threw wild. The score was tied at the end of each inning up to the final one. Pfeffer and Cooper were batted hard in the first then each settled down until the sixth when Southworth's triple and Cutshaw's single gave the Pirates a run. Johnston, first up for Brooklyn in the same inning, tied the score with a home run in the left field stand. The teams will play a postponed game on Monday.

Giants Whip Reds.

New York—New York outfought Cincinnati on Sunday in an eleven inning struggle, the first of a four game series which may decide which team remains in the almost hopeless chase after the Brooklyn leaders. The score was 7 to 6. The Giants won when Doyle walked and scored from first on Duncan's fumble of Snyder's hit to left field. All of the Red runs were due to homers. On Monday the teams will play a double header.

Ushers of St. Joseph church will meet this evening at the Caupuchin Monastery, it was announced Sunday. The meeting is called for 7:15 o'clock.

Tigers Win Two

Detroit—Detroit took two games from Washington on Sunday, 9 to 7 and 3 to 2. The first game was a loosely played affair, marked by Cobb's steal of home. In the second game Detroit bunched hits on Shaw in the first inning for three runs, a lead which Washington could not overcome.

The Boy Scouts will hold their regular meeting at 7:15 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Crowded Highways

While on his way from Menasha to Appleton Sunday a local business man passed 72 cars in 15 minutes. Full as many were going in the opposite direction. This meant that nearly 6 machines were passing over the highway each hour.

"ASPIRIN"

WARNING! Unless you see the name "Bayer" on tablets you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for 20 years and proved safe by millions. Name "Bayer" has same meaning as 14 Karat on gold.

SAFETY FIRST! Accept only an "unbroken package" of genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin," which contains proper directions for Headache, Earache, Toothache, Neuralgia, Colds, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Lumbago, and for pain generally. Strictly American!

Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets cost but a few cents—Larger packages.
Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

WHERE THE MONEY MUST COME FROM.

Telephone facilities did not keep pace with growth, during the war, because the government put strict limits on new construction. Now labor and materials are high.

During war time, if the government income from telephone service did not pay the bills, Uncle Sam went down in his pocket and made out the deficit out of taxes.

It is really much fairer for the user of the telephone, who gets the benefit, to pay what the service is worth.

Improvements must keep pace with the public's demands, and there is no way for the Telephone Company to get the money to pay for them, except by an increase of rates

Increased facilities increase the value of the service to every subscriber.

Better Tone

How The Brunswick Attains It

EVEN the most casual hearing of The Brunswick gives instant and conclusive evidence of its tone superiority. Your ear immediately detects the difference.

This betterment is due to the Brunswick Method of Reproduction, which includes two new ideas — the Ultona and the All-Wood Tone Amplifier.

The Ultona plays all records at their best, whatever make. Just a turn of the hand and the Ultona presents to each type the proper weight, diaphragm and needle according to its exact requirements.

Perfect reproduction is followed by perfect tone development through the new All-Wood Tone Amplifier. No metal is used in its construction.

Investigate The Brunswick before you buy; a visit to our shop will give you new standards by which to judge.

WOMAN SLAIN AT SOLDIER'S GRAVE

Strangled to Death for Money Reputed to Be Carried in Clothing.

New York.—With clothing ripped to shreds and the marks of finger prints on the neck, the body of Mrs. Trembowitz, 66 years old, of South Amboy, N. J., was found early on Sunday in Ernston cemetery, South Amboy, within a short distance of the grave of her hero son, upon which she had just tenderly placed a wreath of flowers.

The mother, who was in the habit of visiting the last resting place of her son, Frank, every Friday, did not return to her home last Friday night, and a searching party, headed by her husband, Michael, 74 years old, and her sons, Michael, Jr., and George, was formed.

They were joined by the members of the South Amboy post of the American Legion, but although the posse searched all Friday night no trace of Mrs. Trembowitz was found until early on Sunday.

Found Body in Bushes

The body of the murdered woman was found in a clump of bushes. The vicinity where the body was found showed marks of a terrific struggle. On the left side of the woman's neck were found marks and on the right side the mark of a man's thumb.

The woman's clothing had been torn from her in an effort on the part of the murderer to find the large sum of money generally believed ... in the neighborhood to be carried by Mrs. Trembowitz. ... the victim's face, and ... she was struck a heavy blow, ... down, and then ... her assailant.

Roy Hanson of Oshkosh, was here on business Monday.

EXPLORER, AFTER 2 YEARS IN ICE

ROALD AMUNDSEN.

This picture, just arrived from Alaska, shows how Roald Amundsen, the noted Norwegian explorer, looked when he arrived in Nome, Alaska, after battling the Arctic north for two years, much of which time he was reported "lost." The Norwegian completed the first circumnavigation of the world between the northern coasts of Europe, Asia and America and the edge of the Arctic ice pack.

FORGED FINGER PRINTS TO DEFRAUD UNCLE SAM

Chicago—Forgery of finger prints charged Lieut. S. F. Sullivan, detained at the Great Lakes naval training station, to embezzle thousands of dollars, authorities believed today.

Navy pay details, believed fraud proof, provide for the signature of the recipient in writing and with his finger prints. By forging finger prints and blurring the marks to make them illegible, Lieut. Sullivan escaped detection until a recent audit of his books, according to officials.

STOP SALARY OF HAITI PRESIDENT

Uncle Sam Charges Haitians Have Violated Terms of Agreement.

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington—The United States has informed Haiti that the salaries of her president and other officials have been withheld because the island republic failed to abide by treaties made with this government, it was said at the state department today.

Haiti's protest came when charges were made that the American forces occupying Haiti and San Domingo were treating the natives badly and the National City bank of New York was "financial arbiter of Haiti."

A treaty signed between the United States and Haiti soon after American marines occupied the island in 1915, it was said, provided for reforms and methods of administration and put an American adviser in control of the republic's finances.

According to the state department, the Haitian congress recently passed several laws in violation of the treaty and refused to pass others to kill the bills.

Officials declared Haitian funds were deposited in the national bank of Haiti and the bank disposes of the funds as ordered by the American adviser. The National City bank, which, it was charged, was financial arbiter of Haiti, recently bought stock in the Haitian bank, it was said.

Commenting on statements that Admiral Knapp had been sent to Haiti to investigate conditions there, the navy department pointed out Knapp was ordered to the republic some time ago.

RESUME PROBE OF CAMPAIGN FUNDS

Democrats and Republicans Do Not Agree on Method to Be Followed.

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington.—The senate investigation of campaign funds will reopen here Wednesday, Senator Kenyon, chairman of the investigating committee, announced on his return to Washington today.

A long list of witnesses has been summoned.

The committee hopes to complete its work within a week.

A controversy was in sight between the republican and democratic members of the committee over the future trend of the inquiry. Kenyon and other republicans desire to take up democratic activities and charges unrelated to Governor Cox's allegations concerning a republican "slush fund."

Democrats insist Cox's charges be followed up, and have promised more "leads" will be submitted by E. H. Moore, Cox's spokesman, when sessions are resumed.

GOLF STARS MEET IN STATE TITLE FINALS

By United Press Leased Wire

Milwaukee—Bobby Peebles, of Belfort, and Arthur Clarkson, present champion, are picked to furnish the excitement in the final round for the annual state open golf championship here this afternoon.

Peebles paired with O. C. Fuller, of the M. C. C., was in a triple tie for third place in the 18 hole professional-amateur meet yesterday. They turned in a 36 out and 39 in for 75.

M. T. McLaren of the M. C. C. paired with A. B. Ritchie, Oconomowoc country club, tutor, won first place.

BRYAN WARNS AGAINST REPEAL OF DRY LAWS

By United Press Leased Wire

Lincoln, Neb.—Warning against efforts to repeal the prohibition enforcement law, William J. Bryan, in the current issue of his publication "The Commoner," urges democrats and republicans to disregard political affiliations in contests between wet and dry candidates for congress.

Every friend of prohibition should stand guard until the polls close and prevent the election of a wet congress. The two candidates—Mr. Harding and Mr. Cox—have gone out of their way to try to the vets to elect a wet congress."

PAY TRIBUTE TO RED ARROW DEAD IN EUROPE

By United Press Leased Wire

Milwaukee—Tribute was paid members of the Thirty-second Michigan-Wisconsin Red Arrow division, who made the supreme sacrifice, to several thousand members of the division and friends from both states, here Sunday night.

The memorial opened the first annual reunion of members of the division.

Addresses were made by Major W. G. Haan, former commander of the division and Chas. S. Osborne, former governor of Michigan.

ALLEGED SLAYER KEEPS UP HIS HUNGER STRIKE

By United Press Leased Wire

Muskegon, Mich.—Dr. Otis W. Sedgwick, in jail here in connection with the death of his wife and daughter at Whitehall, Mich., today started on the sixth day of his hunger and thirst strike. He has neither touched food or water since his arrest, although efforts have been made to feed him.

Sedgwick has also gone on a talk strike. He has refused to utter a sound since his confinement. He was carried from his cell outdoors Sunday when attending physicians thought fresh air might restore a more normal state of mind.
